

THE BRECKENRIDGE NEWS.

ALL THE NEWS THAT'S FIT TO PRINT.

VOL. XXX.

CLOVERPORT, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 13, 1906.

12 Pages

NO. 48

BARBECUE AND PICNIC AT TAR SPRINGS JULY 4.

Grandest Barbecue and Picnic of the Season.

More Money Being Spent for Amusements.

Most Beautiful Grounds and Gorgeous Scenery.

A FINE MERRY-GO-ROUND BRASS BAND--DANCING

Fun from morning till morning. Dancing day and night. Everything to eat. Everything to amuse. Soda Water on the Grounds. A Great Whirlwind of Joy from start to finish.

Gates Open--Admission Free

Come to this grand barbecue and picnic expecting to enjoy the most delightful day of the year. This picnic will surpass all others. We are sparing no means to make this event what we claim it will be--the grandest of the season. We invite you to come.

Pate & Halliday, Props.

BIDS RECEIVED

For Construction of M.
H. & E. R. R.--Smith &
Co. May Get It.

Bids for the construction of the Madisonville, Hartford and Eastern Railroad were opened the second time at the office of Chief Engineer Feagan Monday. The following firms or companies submitted propositions: Missouri Construction Co., Cape Girardeau, Mo.; G. H. Dabman, Pensacola, Fla.; Edington Griffiths & Co., Knoxville, Tenn.; Ryan Bros., Indianapolis, Ind.; Walter Wilson, Rhodes & Co., Knoxville, Tenn.; Kirkpatrick Bros., Paducah, Ky.; C. D. Smith & Co., Memphis, Tenn.; Carter Construction Co., Indianapolis, Ind.

While the Engineer's force will not be ready for a few days to give out the name of the successful bidder, it is believed that C. D. Smith & Co., of Memphis, Tenn., will be given the contract. They agree to complete the work in twelve months. Some of the eight bidders mentioned will certainly be awarded the contracts in a few days, probably before the next issue of this paper.

The propositions contained time agreements for completion ranging all the way from five to eighteen months. --Hartford Republican.

PROMINENT FARMER DEAD.

Garrett, Ky. June 12. (Special.)—Orley D. Richardson died June 7, 1906. He was born in March 1837 and married Miss Melissa Richardson in September 1857. To this union was born four children who are Mollie, Albert, Mrs. B. J. Canlow and Mrs. C. L. Stitt, of Cincinnati and he also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Jim Wofford, of Henderson, and Mrs. Virg Hardin of Holt and a half-brother, Geo. Richardson, of Clinton, and a half-sister, Mrs. Julia Clarkson, of Big Spring. Mr. Richardson united with the Brandenburg Baptist church at the old Highland school-house in 1839 and moved his letter to Buck Grove church. Mr. Richardson was an active member of the Masonic Lodge at Brandenburg until recently old age preventing him. He was buried with full honors of the lodge. Funeral services conducted by Revs. B. F. Hagen and D. F. Shaeffer and remains were laid to rest in Buck Grove cemetery.

Many floral designs were placed on the grave, among them was a lovely one presented by the Masons. The lodge congregation showed that he was leaving many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Wava Roff were here from Owensboro Sunday.

75, BUT NOT TOO OLD TO TELL A GOOD STORY

THOMAS J. JOLLY.

Bank At Falls Of Rough.

A new bank was opened at Falls-of-Rough June 2nd, with W. R. Cummings as cashier. The Meyer was here Sunday.

APPRECIATED IN DANVILLE.

On the evening of Tuesday a piano recital was given by the advanced pupils of Mr. Mayer. The program was made up of numbers played by Miss Virginia Bradley, Miss Lela Severn and Miss Loretta Mannin with two eight band numbers in which Mr. Mayer took the fourth part. The recital was throughout on a high plane and reflected great credit on Mr. Mayer as well as the pupils themselves. Miss Loretta Mannin rendered her numbers with vivacity and temperament. The playing of Miss Margaret Lela Severn was marked by artistic finish and repose combined with the intelligent grasp of musical spirit of her selections. In Miss Virginia Bradley are found all the signs of an artist and her progress during the last two years has been noticeably rapid. Her interpretation of the classical numbers of Beethoven and Mendelssohn was unusually beautiful but no less so than those of the modern, Liszt and Dvorak. Danville will no doubt follow with pride her future career. --Boyle County Herald.

T. E. Mathey inspector for the Great T. Co., Evansville, is here. Mr. Mathey says he wants White Oak, Beeson and Red Oak ties.

Uncle Jeff Jolly's "Goose" Story.

I have a chinese goose. She laid 30 eggs before she went to setting. I set 9 of the first laid eggs under a common goose March 21. Six of these eggs hatched April 19. I weighed one of the geese April 31. It was then 6 weeks old and weighed 7 pounds. Every one will average at least 8 1/2 pounds each. How is this for high weight? They are fighters and Mrs. Jolly says that when she feeds them, they not only whip all the chickens off but also the old 80 pound turkey gobblers.

Respectfully,
Tom J. Jolly,
Bewleyville, Ky., June 2.

Crops Cut Short By Drouth.

Bewleyville, Ky., June 12. (Special.)—Wheat, oats and meadows are badly cut short by the drouth. A tall crop of tobacco was set out June 1 and 2. The hail injured garden stuff some and the rain washed the grounds considerably and made ponds in all the basins.

Walter Estus has returned home.

BIG SHOW IS COMING.

Cooley & Hagan's show boat will play here June 25 or thereabouts. According to their statements the boat is the largest floating theater in the world, having been just recently constructed. This is its first season out. The interior of the boat is said to be far away and above that of any show boat now on the waters, the seating capacity being larger and superior to those of the floating contemporaries. The boat is said to have a very fine electrical plant.

Cooley & Hagan say the bill they have is giving satisfaction, it being made up of high salaried people. The show's band and orchestra are said to be good and the management promises the usual free open air concerts morning and evening.

Big Sunday--School

The Owensboro Messenger contained Sunday an excellent out of the Third Baptist church Sunday School of Owensboro. This is the largest Sunday school in the state. On last Sunday, June 3, 81.08 persons were present.

Mrs. Ike Meyer went to Louisville Monday. She will remain there a short time, then will go to Western Kentucky to reside.

It is related by Professor Bell, that when a friend of his was traveling abroad he once mortally took to his bed, and his faithful attendant advised him to change for a day's journey he intended making. He departed from his lodgings, and he never returned. When he died he took out his purse to pay and found he had lost a gold coin from it. On returning home he inquired of his servant informed him that the dog seemed very ill, as they could not induce him to eat anything. He went at once to his favorite, and found it lying on its back with its front creature ran to him, deposited the gold coin at his feet and then devoured the food placed for him with great relish. The truth is, the faithful gentleman had dropped the coin in the morning. The dog had picked it up and he had been unable to get it out lest he should lose his master's property before an opportunity was afforded him to restore it—Chambers' Journal.

Origin of Crescent Brand.
The origin of the Viennese brand was explained by a friend who found it on most places on the continent, dates capital was being beleaguered by the Turks, under the leadership of Kara Mustafa, and as they failed to take the city by assault they decided to dig a passage under the walls and mine their way in. At the same time the noise of the sledge made the sound of the tunneling inaudible, and at nightfall the defenders of the city were taken by surprise by the Turks and the bakers. It was the bakers who, as they baked the bread for the garrison, heard the pickaxes of the sappers working in the night, and gave the alarm. In the fighting the Bakers' association took their share with the utmost bravery, and as a reward for their services the Sultan gave them permission to make a special coin shaped like the Turkish crescent.—London Sketch.

Wasy Enough.
—How did your husband happen to die so soon after getting insured for a large amount? Widow He worked himself to death trying to pay the premiums.

They Come in Plovers.
—One way to gain love and relatives is to die rich and live no will.—Baltimore.

BRECKENRIDGE NEWS.

JNO. D. AND V. G. SARGAGE,
Editors and Proprietors.

Issued Every Wednesday.

Subscription Price $1.00 a year or $1.25 if paid at the end of year.

ORDERS OF THANKS over five lines charged at the rate of 10 cents per line.
ORDERS OF THANKS charged for the use of one per line. Money in advance.

Examine the label on your paper. If it is not correct, please notify us.

When ordering a change in the address of subscribers should give their old as well as the new address.

TWELVE PAGES.

WEDNESDAY JUNE 13, 1906.

For Congress.

HON. BEN JOHNSON

TWENTY YEARS AGO!

Engraving by Bush-Krebs Co., Louisville.

ADAIR LUCIUS BARNARD.

There is a fine stand of corn and tobacco, and it is all growing nicely.

Wheat harvest is in full blast and a much better crop than was expected.

"Cleanliness is next to Godliness," and applies to a city as well as an individual.

The Democrats of Louisville are urging James E. Stone to become a candidate for clerk of the Court of Appeals.

The contest over the whiskey election in this city has been continued until the 25th of this month.
There seems to be but one opinion in regard to the outcome, and that is that the local opinion people will win out. In that event the grand jury will get mighty busy along about October next.

Wm. J. Bryan is a dead sure winner for the Democratic nomination for President in 1908.
Everything points in that direction. A number of states in which Democratic conventions have been held, have declared for Bryan as their leader. Bryan will return from his trip around the world in August and a great ovation will be tendered him by the Democracy of the country. Having dropped all of his Populistic ideas, and that party having gone dead in Nebraska, and throughout the country, Bryan's position as a leader and a political organizer naturally changes. He is the central figure now in the Democratic camp, and he is looked to as one to lead them out of the wilderness.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble

And Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle of common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours.
A sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys. If it stains your linen, it is evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and causing pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.
If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.
You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tell more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail.
Address Dr. Kilmer & Sons of Swamp-Root Co., Binghamton, N.Y. Write mentioning this reading this generous offer in this paper.
Don't make any mistake but remember the name, Swamp-Root. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, and the address, Binghamton, N.Y., on every bottle.

HURBERT VREELAND FOR SECRETARY OF STATE.

So much encouragement has been given Hurbert Vreeland, our present active and progressive young Commissioner of Agriculture, to offer himself again as a candidate for a State office, that after mature consideration he has decided to become a candidate for Secretary of State. It certainly looks like he has won for himself the backing of the farmers of Kentucky for whatever he may seek, and in recognition of his efforts in their behalf since his election as State Commissioner. Thousands of them have urged him to offer for another State office, since the Constitution makes him ineligible for re-election.
Mr. Vreeland has accomplished something in an office that was created for the farmers, but which had been of very little benefit to them, and it is refreshing to the Democrats of Kentucky when they find public servants who devote all their time and thought to fulfilling the duties of their office with energy and intelligence.

Mr. Vreeland is the youngest of the present State officials, and until the last State election had never been a candidate for office. Although it was his first appearance he won his nomination for Commissioner of Agriculture by a majority of 26,000, next to the largest majority received by any candidate in the State primary, although opposed by two prominent candidates, who made most vigorous campaigns.
Mr. Vreeland has a personal acquaintance probably not surpassed by any other young man in Kentucky, extending to scores and hundreds in every one of the 119 counties in Kentucky.
He is a brother of John W. Vreeland, publisher of the Farmer's Home Journal, and at the head of the Democratic Executive Committee in Louisville and Jefferson county, and of Graham Vreeland, managing editor of the Courier-Journal, who for ten years was the Legislative correspondent of the Confession Journal at Frankfort.

The Democratic nominations for State offices will be made again by State primary in November, and Mr.
Vreeland has begun an active campaign. Up to the present time he has no opposition.

There is no need worrying along in discomfort because of a disordered digestion. Get a bottle of KODOL DYS-PEPSIA, and see what it will do for you. Kodol not only digests what you eat and gives that tired stomach a needed rest, but is a corrective of the greatest efficiency. Kodol relieves indigestion, dyspepsia, palpitation of the heart, flatulence, and sour stomach.
Kodol will make your stomach young and healthy again. You will worry just in the proportion that your stomach worries you. Worry means the loss of ability to do your best. Worry is to be avoided at all times. Kodol will take the worry out of your stomach.
Sold by all druggists.

LODIBURG.

C. C. Grant was a Stephens-port Saturday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Harrell have returned home after a two weeks visit at Leitchfield and Christianity, Ind.

Several from here attended the moonlight at Geo. Cox's Saturday night and all report a good time.

Mr. Alaska K. Hardin, of Holt, was the guest of his parents
Saturday and Sunday.

A GUARANTEED CURE FOR PILES.
Itching, Blind, Bleeding, Protruding Piles
Druggists are authorized to refund money if KAY'S OINTMENT fails to cure in 10 to 15 days. 50c.

C. B. Skillman is representing Breckenridge county as Commissioner at the House coming in Louisville this week. His wife is the nation of honor and Miss Ruth Haynes is the maid of honor. Miss Haynes is a strikingly handsome and beautiful young lady and will uphold Cloverports reputation as having the prettiest girls in the State.
Look out for Breckenridge! Watch her shine out in the army!

EDUCATIONAL NOTES.

The largest body of students that assembled in any one place in the South last year was at Bowling Green,
Ky., attending the Bowling Green Business University.

The graduates of the Bowling Green Business University are recognized by the business and commercial world as being thoroughly trained, earnest, energetic, and reliable.
Many of the largest firms throughout the South and West get all their book keepers, stenographers and clerks from the Bowling Green University Bowling Green, Ky. The graduates of this school in great demand. Write for catalogue.

The Bowling Green Business University, Bowling Green, Ky., is in session the entire year. Write for catalogue.
Anyone contemplating taking a course in either Bookkeeping, Telegraphy, Shorthand, or Typewriting should write to the Bowling Green Business University, Bowling Green
Ky. Write for catalogue.

The National School of Telegraphy, located at Bowling Green, Ky., has never failed to locate every one of its graduates. If you are thinking of taking a course in Telegraphy, we would advise you to write to this school for catalogue.

WINCHESTER CARTRIDGES

For Rifles, Revolvers and Pistols.

Winchester cartridges in all calibers from .22 to .50, shoot where you aim when the trigger is pulled. They are always accurate, reliable and uniform.

Shoot Them and You'll Shoot Well.

Always Buy Winchester Make.

$1.25 ROUND TRIP TO LOUISVILLE VIA THE "HENDERSON ROUTE" SUNDAY, June 17.

Trains leaves Cloverport 5:07 a. m., and 9:42 a. m.
Returning, leaves Louisville, Union Station 10th and Broadway, 4:55 p. m., and 9:00 p. m.
For full information ask the agent.

$1.25 ROUND TRIP ... FROM ALL ...

Branch Points ... TO ... LOUISVILLE

Week-End Excursion VIA THE "Henderson Route" ON Saturday, June 16.

SPECIAL TRAIN LEAVES
Fordsville 6:30 a. m.
Hardinsburg 8:14 a. m.
Irvington 9:14 a. m.

Returning, Leaves Louisville, Union Station 10th and Broadway at 6:00 p. m.
For full information ask the Agent.

COMING MONDAY, JUNE 18.

"Sunny South"

The largest and best equipped Floating Theater in the world presenting a high class Musical Comedy and retined variety entertainment.

Varno and Valdare, World's Daring Trick Bicycle Riders.
Bert Hogue and Clara Cerbert, refined comedy singers and dancers.
Ethel Davenport, lady cornetist, late of Sousa's and Innes's band.
Grotesque Randolph's comedy acrobats and contor-tioneists.
Four Faust Sisters, Germany's famous military musical girls.
Master Jimmie Dell, a sweet singer of illustrated songs.
A real Japanese song and dance sketch, Ethel and Marie Dell, assisted by eight young girls.
Edison's latest moving pictures in one continuous laugh. "The Dream of the Rarebit and the Train Wreckers."
Each and every artist will positively appear and we assure you the best, brightest and most refined performance ever presented. Popular prices. General admission 25 cents. Reserve seats 35 and 50 cents.

W. R. MARKLE, Sole Owner.

DON'T

Use pond or creek ice when you can get artificial ice that is pure, tasteless and more healthful at the same prices.

Our car passes the following places twice weekly. Call on our agents for days and prices, or write or telephone us.

AGENTS.

Macon, F. B. Grathouse,	Long Branch, Howard,
Waltham, G. W. Robinson,	Howards, S. Long,
Lewistown, J. B. Taylor & Co.	Garfield, A. A. Richardson,
Glacerville, J. A. Gray,
Holt, Wm. Munn,	Hardinsburg, E. L. Mattingly,
Addison, J. B. Morris,	Nick, P. S. Hurren Bros. Co.
Shenandoah, J. H. Miller,	McQuady, N. M. Crew & Co.
Sample, J. C. Crutcher,	Glendene, J. C. Mattingly,
Lodiburg, J. C. Crutcher,	Falls of Rough, L. Green & Son,
Webster, O. C. Richardson,	Rockvale, M. L. Har,
Irvington, O. C. Richardson,	Vassant, J. T. Jones,
Clinton, Z. T. Cor,	Ashtab, H. C. Lake,
Brandenburg, C. A. Coleman,	Fordsville, Bratcher & Miller,
Rock Haven, C. A. Coleman,

Cloverport Ice Co.

TELEPHONE GROWTH.

The Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Company has issued statement of its business for the month of May, and the increase in the number of subscribers is shown as follows:

Subscribers May 1st, 1906,	-	-	-	162,666
Number added during month,	-	-	5,076
Number discontinued,	-	-	2,912
Net increase,	-	-	2,163
Total subscribers May 31st, 1906,	-	-	164,828

W. H. Bowman, President,
F. L. Lounsbury, Vice-President.

C. A. Skillman, Cashier,
Chas. Skillman, Asst-Cashier.

The Old Reliable BRECKINRIDGE BANK,

Organized 1872. Capital and Surplus $52,000.00.
Insured in every way, and protected by the very latest equipment.
Interest paid on time deposits.
Business great and small solicited.

co-operative pumping plants might be established among farmers for the irrigation of lands which they could

CO-OPERATION SUBJECT TO PUBLIC CONTROL

When you go beyond this field of co-operation, you reach a field which is now largely occupied by large corporations, which are exercising a public use and for that reason subject to public control.

I believe that eventually the public ownership of all public utilities is inevitable in this country; but I am not a believer in the theory that we are ready today for municipal ownership in all our cities or for the government ownership of all our railroads.

Municipal ownership without municipal integrity runs a greater risk than corporate ownership, and the last condition of that man be worse than the first.

I believe that political honesty must come before public ownership, and that the only way we will ever get political honesty is to restore the great majority of our people to the land, where they will live close to nature and learn the difference between man and his fellow men, and the imperative need of public integrity, by learning to unite together to do things for themselves.

HONESTY: THE CORNERSTONE

Man is the product of his environment. Man will be what he is trained to be. And co-operation will train men to be honest, obedient, and true with the public, because honesty and integrity in the discharge of obligations to one's fellow men is the corner stone of co-operation.

Without it co-operation is a house built upon the sand, and the eternal rocks as its foundation.

And so it is that your movement for the formation of farmers' associations, in order to get the best of selling your own products, is but a single thread in the great web of co-operation, which will carry your ship of state off the rocks, and draw it to a safe anchorage.

The profits that you will make for yourself in the formation of these co-operative associations, and their management, is the least of the things which should impel you toward the movement.

A CRISIS IN OUR HISTORY

We have reached a crisis in our country's history.

It is a crisis threatening greater danger than when the cloud of disaster swept up from the south and the nation was drenched in the blood of a civil war.

The cause of corruption following in the wake of the money trust, and the vital of our country.

I have shown you that there is but one cure, and it is the only one, and that we must look for this cure.

In training ourselves to co-operate together to do the things of our class, that we must look for this cure.

In training ourselves to co-operate together to do the things of our class, that we must look for this cure.

In training ourselves to co-operate together to do the things of our class, that we must look for this cure.

OPPOSITION A STIMULANT

I have been told that your movement needs with opposition, and that who oppose it are most unwise. It is the lesson of all periods of the history of our race that reform movements, movements for the betterment of mankind, need opposition, which merely support to be for the reform movement, and are of questionable character, have been strengthened and built up and perpetuated by the opposition and persecution.

No greater stimulus to the growth of your movement could exist than to have it systematically opposed. Such opposition rouses the consciousness and aggressiveness of the man, stimulates him to greater effort, and encourages him to persevere until obstacles have been overcome, which would otherwise have caused failure.

STRENGTH COMES FROM STRUGGLE

It is another law of nature that strength comes from the struggle. The strong arm is the arm that is used. The strong mind is the mind that thinks. The strong man is the man who has developed every fibre of his physical vigor by use. The strong race of the earth is the race that has survived oppression and overcome great obstacles in their development.

Be not discouraged by any condition that may confront you.

Be not discouraged by any temporary failure. It is the history of all movements that failure must at times be a part of their progress.

But as the wise saying has it: "Failure is but the pillars of success."

ILLUSTRATIONS OF SUCCESSFUL CO-OPERATION

What others have done you can do. If you want successful illustrations of co-operation among producers, so to California and the other states, and the associations which have been formed there among the fruit growers for the marketing of their products.

And the road to their success was paved with many failures. At first it seemed as though they were more failures than successes.

But they persevered. They were forced to swim or drown. They were forced to market their own products or have their industries destroyed.

And they learned.

And so will you learn. If you will persevere and be loyal to your fellows and to your movement.

If you want more illustrations of successful co-operation, go among the co-operative creameries of Wisconsin or Michigan, or among the co-operative canal companies of California or Colorado or Montana.

If you want instances of significant

RED RUM.

A Temperance Lesson.

The growth of the co-operative stores in England has been something marvelous. Starting with practically nothing in the early days, in a comparatively few years they have built up a business aggregating millions of dollars a year.

They began at the small end. They began with the corn and they gradually developed the rest until it has become a great strong oak.

If they had begun at the big end, and substituted a capital stock as large as their present capital, and gone out into the highways and byways to hire men to transact their business, forming a great organization in which no man was trained to his duties, they would have failed hopelessly and miserably.

TIE MAKING OF MEN.

You must begin with the seed and let it grow. It is the only way in England with their co-operative stores.

The making of men.

They should be the pillar of fire by night and the pillar of cloud by day to lead the people out of the darkness of the corruption and the dangers of accumulated and aggregated wealth. It should be a great public movement in the making of men, rather than in "making money."

Our government is upheld upon the shoulders of the people.

And as our citizenship is maintained at a high standard of moral and physical strength on the part of our men and our women, just to that extent will the strength of our nation be maintained.

PROBLEMS OF THE COUNTRY.

The money trust is the problem of this generation are in the country. The building of good roads, the building of better farm homes, the education of the farmers, the application of power to the needs of the farm and the farm home, the building of rural electric railways, the construction of rural electric systems and the application of machinery to all the uses of the farm, offer a field for effort and investment. The application of energy to the farmer's job which no city can offer to him, provided he has had the proper kind of education to qualify him to solve these problems.

There is no man in every county in this country a school where every farmer's boy could, without going many miles from home, get a good education, learn to do all the things which I have mentioned.

AGRICULTURE AND MANUAL TRAINING.

We have schools where a part of this training may be obtained. The Thruway Polytechnic Institute at Pasadena, California, and the Stout Manual Training School at Menominee, Wisconsin, are two of the best. But coupled with them should be the agricultural training which a boy gets at the Boy Scouts National Camp, or in part at the summer school at Madison.

And every girl should have an equal opportunity to it herself for her duties in the management of a farm home.

Out of such bones will come a generation of strong, conservative and intelligent men who will stand the great groups of this people, and will solve them so gradually and steadily that no radical methods will ever need to be resorted to.

MY ANGEL MOTHER CAME TO COMFORT ME

A feeble man, I folded the slip, put it back in his pocket-book and produced another which read "Barney" to be banged on the twenty-first instant.

"Gentlemen," he said, "the immediate cause of those two notices was this: The prime cause was—well, it was 'murder' spelled backward." Without waiting for an answer, he traced the letters of the word with his pencil in the order suggested: "RED RUM."

Unembarrassed silence followed.

"Gentlemen, the rum that I drank murdered my mother. At that time," continued Barney, "my mother and I were living in a boarding house kept by an old maid of uncertain means and I had just returned from a cattle-trading trip and was regaling the boys with a little up-country gossip and some hot rum. I remember it was eleven o'clock the night. The whole scene comes back to me now: the hot rum and water laden air; the great stoves, red with rage and embers. There my remembrance of the scene ends.

INDICATIONS OF THE MOVEMENT.

You see the movement at work in the increased interest in country life. In nature study in the school. In the establishment of such institutions as the Boy Scouts National Camp in Pennsylvania; in the Pioneer potato patch idea; and the vacant lot fund which is working its way out in many cities.

You see it in the school gardens and greenhouses. You see it in every many places and in the increased interest in agricultural training as a part of the education of the young.

You see it in the great upbuilding of the Department of Agriculture as one of the cornerstones of the new government.

COFFEE.

A Temperance Lesson.

We were standing at the counter of a sumptuous barroom in San Antonio where Barclay and the two Englishmen were sitting. Barclay had a ranch to sell which the Englishmen, two heavy-set, red-faced, high-booted fellows were about to purchase. I had acted as broker in the transaction and was well pleased with the price settled upon and anxious that some "blotch" occur to delay the immediate closing of the bargain.

The bar-tender put out four glasses and a bottle of liquor in anticipation of our order and the two Englishmen and myself poured a good "three finger" into our glasses, but Barclay hesitated a moment and then said, "I think I'll take something else."

THE ENGLISHMAN GLANCED AT EACH OTHER SIGNIFICANTLY.

"We're not buying soft drink today, partner," said one of the Englishmen. Barclay hesitatingly poured out a good sized drink and raised it to his lips and turned toward the Englishmen who smiled their approval.

A strange thing then occurred. Barclay took off his hat and looked into the crown of it for a minute and then set the untouched liquor on the bar again. "Gentlemen," he said, "You have to excuse me, but I cannot drink liquor." "Told one of the Englishmen, bashed his fist down on the bar and exclaimed: 'If you can't drink with us, you can't trade with us—that's all.'"

BARCLAY TURNED TO HIM, HIS FACE VERY WHITE, AND SAID SLOWLY: "THEN THE DEED IS OFF GENTLEMEN."

"Then the deed is off gentlemen," Barclay said. "I'll admit I should like to trade with you, gentlemen, but the trade can go to the devil if I have to drink with you. I begged him to let me tell you why I can't drink liquor if you will listen a moment. You may think it took courage to refuse to drink, but I tell you it would have taken more courage to have accepted it." He drew a newspaper clipping from his pocket book and laid it down where we could all see it. "That's exhibit No. 1," he remarked.

For a moment we started in amazement at the great black letters which read: "The murder of John Barclay." The article following said that John Barclay was convicted of murder in the first degree by a jury of twelve men and sentenced to the state prison for life. Barclay's mother who dropped dead in the courtroom when she heard of her son's conviction, had been a woman of great domestic arrangements, the construction of rural electric railways, the construction of rural electric systems and the application of machinery to all the uses of the farm, offer a field for effort and investment.

THE MURDER OF JOHN BARCLAY.

The article following said that John Barclay was convicted of murder in the first degree by a jury of twelve men and sentenced to the state prison for life. Barclay's mother who dropped dead in the courtroom when she heard of her son's conviction, had been a woman of great domestic arrangements, the construction of rural electric railways, the construction of rural electric systems and the application of machinery to all the uses of the farm, offer a field for effort and investment.

The application of energy to the farmer's job which no city can offer to him, provided he has had the proper kind of education to qualify him to solve these problems.

There is no man in every county in this country a school where every farmer's boy could, without going many miles from home, get a good education, learn to do all the things which I have mentioned.

AGRICULTURE AND MANUAL TRAINING.

We have schools where a part of this training may be obtained. The Thruway Polytechnic Institute at Pasadena, California, and the Stout Manual Training School at Menominee, Wisconsin, are two of the best. But coupled with them should be the agricultural training which a boy gets at the Boy Scouts National Camp, or in part at the summer school at Madison.

And every girl should have an equal opportunity to it herself for her duties in the management of a farm home.

Out of such bones will come a generation of strong, conservative and intelligent men who will stand the great groups of this people, and will solve them so gradually and steadily that no radical methods will ever need to be resorted to.

MY ANGEL MOTHER CAME TO COMFORT ME

A feeble man, I folded the slip, put it back in his pocket-book and produced another which read "Barney" to be banged on the twenty-first instant.

"Gentlemen," he said, "the immediate cause of those two notices was this: The prime cause was—well, it was 'murder' spelled backward." Without waiting for an answer, he traced the letters of the word with his pencil in the order suggested: "RED RUM."

Unembarrassed silence followed.

"Gentlemen, the rum that I drank murdered my mother. At that time," continued Barney, "my mother and I were living in a boarding house kept by an old maid of uncertain means and I had just returned from a cattle-trading trip and was regaling the boys with a little up-country gossip and some hot rum. I remember it was eleven o'clock the night. The whole scene comes back to me now: the hot rum and water laden air; the great stoves, red with rage and embers. There my remembrance of the scene ends.

INDICATIONS OF THE MOVEMENT.

You see the movement at work in the increased interest in country life. In nature study in the school. In the establishment of such institutions as the Boy Scouts National Camp in Pennsylvania; in the Pioneer potato patch idea; and the vacant lot fund which is working its way out in many cities.

You see it in the school gardens and greenhouses. You see it in every many places and in the increased interest in agricultural training as a part of the education of the young.

You see it in the great upbuilding of the Department of Agriculture as one of the cornerstones of the new government.

COFFEE.

A Temperance Lesson.

We were standing at the counter of a sumptuous barroom in San Antonio where Barclay and the two Englishmen were sitting. Barclay had a ranch to sell which the Englishmen, two heavy-set, red-faced, high-booted fellows were about to purchase. I had acted as broker in the transaction and was well pleased with the price settled upon and anxious that some "blotch" occur to delay the immediate closing of the bargain.

The bar-tender put out four glasses and a bottle of liquor in anticipation of our order and the two Englishmen and myself poured a good "three finger" into our glasses, but Barclay hesitated a moment and then said, "I think I'll take something else."

THE ENGLISHMAN GLANCED AT EACH OTHER SIGNIFICANTLY.

"We're not buying soft drink today, partner," said one of the Englishmen. Barclay hesitatingly poured out a good sized drink and raised it to his lips and turned toward the Englishmen who smiled their approval.

A strange thing then occurred. Barclay took off his hat and looked into the crown of it for a minute and then set the untouched liquor on the bar again. "Gentlemen," he said, "You have to excuse me, but I cannot drink liquor." "Told one of the Englishmen, bashed his fist down on the bar and exclaimed: 'If you can't drink with us, you can't trade with us—that's all.'"

BARCLAY TURNED TO HIM, HIS FACE VERY WHITE, AND SAID SLOWLY: "THEN THE DEED IS OFF GENTLEMEN."

"Then the deed is off gentlemen," Barclay said. "I'll admit I should like to trade with you, gentlemen, but the trade can go to the devil if I have to drink with you. I begged him to let me tell you why I can't drink liquor if you will listen a moment. You may think it took courage to refuse to drink, but I tell you it would have taken more courage to have accepted it." He drew a newspaper clipping from his pocket book and laid it down where we could all see it. "That's exhibit No. 1," he remarked.

For a moment we started in amazement at the great black letters which read: "The murder of John Barclay." The article following said that John Barclay was convicted of murder in the first degree by a jury of twelve men and sentenced to the state prison for life. Barclay's mother who dropped dead in the courtroom when she heard of her son's conviction, had been a woman of great domestic arrangements, the construction of rural electric railways, the construction of rural electric systems and the application of machinery to all the uses of the farm, offer a field for effort and investment.

THE MURDER OF JOHN BARCLAY.

The article following said that John Barclay was convicted of murder in the first degree by a jury of twelve men and sentenced to the state prison for life. Barclay's mother who dropped dead in the courtroom when she heard of her son's conviction, had been a woman of great domestic arrangements, the construction of rural electric railways, the construction of rural electric systems and the application of machinery to all the uses of the farm, offer a field for effort and investment.

The application of energy to the farmer's job which no city can offer to him, provided he has had the proper kind of education to qualify him to solve these problems.

There is no man in every county in this country a school where every farmer's boy could, without going many miles from home, get a good education, learn to do all the things which I have mentioned.

AGRICULTURE AND MANUAL TRAINING.

We have schools where a part of this training may be obtained. The Thruway Polytechnic Institute at Pasadena, California, and the Stout Manual Training School at Menominee, Wisconsin, are two of the best. But coupled with them should be the agricultural training which a boy gets at the Boy Scouts National Camp, or in part at the summer school at Madison.

And every girl should have an equal opportunity to it herself for her duties in the management of a farm home.

Out of such bones will come a generation of strong, conservative and intelligent men who will stand the great groups of this people, and will solve them so gradually and steadily that no radical methods will ever need to be resorted to.

MY ANGEL MOTHER CAME TO COMFORT ME

A feeble man, I folded the slip, put it back in his pocket-book and produced another which read "Barney" to be banged on the twenty-first instant.

"Gentlemen," he said, "the immediate cause of those two notices was this: The prime cause was—well, it was 'murder' spelled backward." Without waiting for an answer, he traced the letters of the word with his pencil in the order suggested: "RED RUM."

Unembarrassed silence followed.

"Gentlemen, the rum that I drank murdered my mother. At that time," continued Barney, "my mother and I were living in a boarding house kept by an old maid of uncertain means and I had just returned from a cattle-trading trip and was regaling the boys with a little up-country gossip and some hot rum. I remember it was eleven o'clock the night. The whole scene comes back to me now: the hot rum and water laden air; the great stoves, red with rage and embers. There my remembrance of the scene ends.

INDICATIONS OF THE MOVEMENT.

You see the movement at work in the increased interest in country life. In nature study in the school. In the establishment of such institutions as the Boy Scouts National Camp in Pennsylvania; in the Pioneer potato patch idea; and the vacant lot fund which is working its way out in many cities.

You see it in the school gardens and greenhouses. You see it in every many places and in the increased interest in agricultural training as a part of the education of the young.

You see it in the great upbuilding of the Department of Agriculture as one of the cornerstones of the new government.

COFFEE.

A Temperance Lesson.

We were standing at the counter of a sumptuous barroom in San Antonio where Barclay and the two Englishmen were sitting. Barclay had a ranch to sell which the Englishmen, two heavy-set, red-faced, high-booted fellows were about to purchase. I had acted as broker in the transaction and was well pleased with the price settled upon and anxious that some "blotch" occur to delay the immediate closing of the bargain.

The bar-tender put out four glasses and a bottle of liquor in anticipation of our order and the two Englishmen and myself poured a good "three finger" into our glasses, but Barclay hesitated a moment and then said, "I think I'll take something else."

THE ENGLISHMAN GLANCED AT EACH OTHER SIGNIFICANTLY.

"We're not buying soft drink today, partner," said one of the Englishmen. Barclay hesitatingly poured out a good sized drink and raised it to his lips and turned toward the Englishmen who smiled their approval.

A strange thing then occurred. Barclay took off his hat and looked into the crown of it for a minute and then set the untouched liquor on the bar again. "Gentlemen," he said, "You have to excuse me, but I cannot drink liquor." "Told one of the Englishmen, bashed his fist down on the bar and exclaimed: 'If you can't drink with us, you can't trade with us—that's all.'"

BARCLAY TURNED TO HIM, HIS FACE VERY WHITE, AND SAID SLOWLY: "THEN THE DEED IS OFF GENTLEMEN."

"Then the deed is off gentlemen," Barclay said. "I'll admit I should like to trade with you, gentlemen, but the trade can go to the devil if I have to drink with you. I begged him to let me tell you why I can't drink liquor if you will listen a moment. You may think it took courage to refuse to drink, but I tell you it would have taken more courage to have accepted it." He drew a newspaper clipping from his pocket book and laid it down where we could all see it. "That's exhibit No. 1," he remarked.

For a moment we started in amazement at the great black letters which read: "The murder of John Barclay." The article following said that John Barclay was convicted of murder in the first degree by a jury of twelve men and sentenced to the state prison for life. Barclay's mother who dropped dead in the courtroom when she heard of her son's conviction, had been a woman of great domestic arrangements, the construction of rural electric railways, the construction of rural electric systems and the application of machinery to all the uses of the farm, offer a field for effort and investment.

THE MURDER OF JOHN BARCLAY.

The article following said that John Barclay was convicted of murder in the first degree by a jury of twelve men and sentenced to the state prison for life. Barclay's mother who dropped dead in the courtroom when she heard of her son's conviction, had been a woman of great domestic arrangements, the construction of rural electric railways, the construction of rural electric systems and the application of machinery to all the uses of the farm, offer a field for effort and investment.

The application of energy to the farmer's job which no city can offer to him, provided he has had the proper kind of education to qualify him to solve these problems.

There is no man in every county in this country a school where every farmer's boy could, without going many miles from home, get a good education, learn to do all the things which I have mentioned.

AGRICULTURE AND MANUAL TRAINING.

We have schools where a part of this training may be obtained. The Thruway Polytechnic Institute at Pasadena, California, and the Stout Manual Training School at Menominee, Wisconsin, are two of the best. But coupled with them should be the agricultural training which a boy gets at the Boy Scouts National Camp, or in part at the summer school at Madison.

And every girl should have an equal opportunity to it herself for her duties in the management of a farm home.

Out of such bones will come a generation of strong, conservative and intelligent men who will stand the great groups of this people, and will solve them so gradually and steadily that no radical methods will ever need to be resorted to.

MY ANGEL MOTHER CAME TO COMFORT ME

A feeble man, I folded the slip, put it back in his pocket-book and produced another which read "Barney" to be banged on the twenty-first instant.

"Gentlemen," he said, "the immediate cause of those two notices was this: The prime cause was—well, it was 'murder' spelled backward." Without waiting for an answer, he traced the letters of the word with his pencil in the order suggested: "RED RUM."

Unembarrassed silence followed.

"Gentlemen, the rum that I drank murdered my mother. At that time," continued Barney, "my mother and I were living in a boarding house kept by an old maid of uncertain means and I had just returned from a cattle-trading trip and was regaling the boys with a little up-country gossip and some hot rum. I remember it was eleven o'clock the night. The whole scene comes back to me now: the hot rum and water laden air; the great stoves, red with rage and embers. There my remembrance of the scene ends.

INDICATIONS OF THE MOVEMENT.

You see the movement at work in the increased interest in country life. In nature study in the school. In the establishment of such institutions as the Boy Scouts National Camp in Pennsylvania; in the Pioneer potato patch idea; and the vacant lot fund which is working its way out in many cities.

You see it in the school gardens and greenhouses. You see it in every many places and in the increased interest in agricultural training as a part of the education of the young.

You see it in the great upbuilding of the Department of Agriculture as one of the cornerstones of the new government.

YOU CAN DO BETTER!

A Temperance Lesson.

We were standing at the counter of a sumptuous barroom in San Antonio where Barclay and the two Englishmen were sitting. Barclay had a ranch to sell which the Englishmen, two heavy-set, red-faced, high-booted fellows were about to purchase. I had acted as broker in the transaction and was well pleased with the price settled upon and anxious that some "blotch" occur to delay the immediate closing of the bargain.

The bar-tender put out four glasses and a bottle of liquor in anticipation of our order and the two Englishmen and myself poured a good "three finger" into our glasses, but Barclay hesitated a moment and then said, "I think I'll take something else."

THE ENGLISHMAN GLANCED AT EACH OTHER SIGNIFICANTLY.

"We're not buying soft drink today, partner," said one of the Englishmen. Barclay hesitatingly poured out a good sized drink and raised it to his lips and turned toward the Englishmen who smiled their approval.

A strange thing then occurred. Barclay took off his hat and looked into the crown of it for a minute and then set the untouched liquor on the bar again. "Gentlemen," he said, "You have to excuse me, but I cannot drink liquor." "Told one of the Englishmen, bashed his fist down on the bar and exclaimed: 'If you can't drink with us, you can't trade with us—that's all.'"

BARCLAY TURNED TO HIM, HIS FACE VERY WHITE, AND SAID SLOWLY: "THEN THE DEED IS OFF GENTLEMEN."

"Then the deed is off gentlemen," Barclay said. "I'll admit I should like to trade with you, gentlemen, but the trade can go to the devil if I have to drink with you. I begged him to let me tell you why I can't drink liquor if you will listen a moment. You may think it took courage to refuse to drink, but I tell you it would have taken more courage to have accepted it." He drew a newspaper clipping from his pocket book and laid it down where we could all see it. "That's exhibit No. 1," he remarked.

For a moment we started in amazement at the great black letters which read: "The murder of John Barclay." The article following said that John Barclay was convicted of murder in the first degree by a jury of twelve men and sentenced to the state prison for life. Barclay's mother who dropped dead in the courtroom when she heard of her son's conviction, had been a woman of great domestic arrangements, the construction of rural electric railways, the construction of rural electric systems and the application of machinery to all the uses of the farm, offer a field for effort and investment.

THE MURDER OF JOHN BARCLAY.

The article following said that John Barclay was convicted of murder in the first degree by a jury of twelve men and sentenced to the state prison for life. Barclay's mother who dropped dead in the courtroom when she heard of her son's conviction, had been a woman of great domestic arrangements, the construction of rural electric railways, the construction of rural electric systems and the application of machinery to all the uses of the farm, offer a field for effort and investment.

The application of energy to the farmer's job which no city can offer to him, provided he has had the proper kind of education to qualify him to solve these problems.

There is no man in every county in this country a school where every farmer's boy could, without going many miles from home, get a good education, learn to do all the things which I have mentioned.

AGRICULTURE AND MANUAL TRAINING.

We have schools where a part of this training may be obtained. The Thruway Polytechnic Institute at Pasadena, California, and the Stout Manual Training School at Menominee, Wisconsin, are two of the best. But coupled with them should be the agricultural training which a boy gets at the Boy Scouts National Camp, or in part at the summer school at Madison.

And every girl should have an equal opportunity to it herself for her duties in the management of a farm home.

Out of such bones will come a generation of strong, conservative and intelligent men who will stand the great groups of this people, and will solve them so gradually and steadily that no radical methods will ever need to be resorted to.

MY ANGEL MOTHER CAME TO COMFORT ME

A feeble man, I folded the slip, put it back in his pocket-book and produced another which read "Barney" to be banged on the twenty-first instant.

"Gentlemen," he said, "the immediate cause of those two notices was this: The prime cause was—well, it was 'murder' spelled backward." Without waiting for an answer, he traced the letters of the word with his pencil in the order suggested: "RED RUM."

Unembarrassed silence followed.

"Gentlemen, the rum that I drank murdered my mother. At that time," continued Barney, "my mother and I were living in a boarding house kept by an old maid of uncertain means and I had just returned from a cattle-trading trip and was regaling the boys with a little up-country gossip and some hot rum. I remember it was eleven o'clock the night. The whole scene comes back to me now: the hot rum and water laden air; the great stoves, red with rage and embers. There my remembrance of the scene ends.

INDICATIONS OF THE MOVEMENT.

You see the movement at work in the increased interest in country life. In nature study in the school. In the establishment of such institutions as the Boy Scouts National Camp in Pennsylvania; in the Pioneer potato patch idea; and the vacant lot fund which is working its way out in many cities.

You see it in the school gardens and greenhouses. You see it in every many places and in the increased interest in agricultural training as a part of the education of the young.

You see it in the great upbuilding of the Department of Agriculture as one of the cornerstones of the new government.

If your grocer does not sell ARIOBA, let us send you a Family Box.

On receipt of $1.80, express or postal money order, we will send 10 pounds of ARIOBA in a wooden box, transportation paid to your nearest freight station. The $1.80 pays for the transportation and the coffee, which will be in the original packages bearing the signature of Arbuckle Bros., that entitles you to free presents. Ten pounds—ten packages—ten signatures. If you write for it, we will send free a book containing full particulars and colored pictures of nearly 100 presents for users of Arbuckle's ARIOBA Coffee.

The price of coffee fluctuates—we cannot guarantee it for any period.

Address our nearest office.

ARBUCKLE BROS.

71 Water Street, New York City, Dept. A.

100 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill., Dept. A.

Livery Ave. and 10th St., Pittsburgh, Pa., Dept. A.

411 South Seventh Street, St. Louis, Mo., Dept. A.

Gray Hair Restored.

"WALNUT HAIR STAM"

Restores Gray, Thinned or Falling Hair. It is the only hair restorer that will grow hair where it has fallen out. It is the only hair restorer that will grow hair where it has fallen out. It is the only hair restorer that will grow hair where it has fallen out.

Gray Hair Restored.

"WALNUT HAIR STAM"

Restores Gray, Thinned or Falling Hair. It is the only hair restorer that will grow hair where it has fallen out. It is the only hair restorer that will grow hair where it has fallen out. It is the only hair restorer that will grow hair where it has fallen out.

Gray Hair Restored.

"WALNUT HAIR STAM"

Restores Gray, Thinned or Falling Hair. It is the only hair restorer that will grow hair where it has fallen out. It is the only hair restorer that will grow hair where it has fallen out. It is the only hair restorer that will grow hair where it has fallen out.

Gray Hair Restored.

"WALNUT HAIR STAM"

Restores Gray, Thinned or Falling Hair. It is the only hair restorer that will grow hair where it has fallen out. It is the only hair restorer that will grow hair where it has fallen out. It is the only hair restorer that will grow hair where it has fallen out.

Gray Hair Restored.

"WALNUT HAIR STAM"

Restores Gray, Thinned or Falling Hair. It is the only hair restorer that will grow hair where it has fallen out. It is the only hair restorer that will grow hair where it has fallen out. It is the only hair restorer that will grow hair where it has fallen out.

Gray Hair Restored.

"WALNUT HAIR STAM"

Restores Gray, Thinned or Falling Hair. It is the only hair restorer that will grow hair where it has fallen out. It is the only hair restorer that will grow hair where it has fallen out. It is the only hair restorer that will grow hair where it has fallen out.

Gray Hair Restored.

"WALNUT HAIR STAM"

Restores Gray, Thinned or Falling Hair. It is the only hair restorer that will grow hair where it has fallen out. It is the only hair restorer that will grow hair where it has fallen out. It is the only hair restorer that will grow hair where it has fallen out.

Gray Hair Restored.

"WALNUT HAIR STAM"

Restores Gray, Thinned or Falling Hair. It is the only hair restorer that will grow hair where it has fallen out. It is the only hair restorer that will grow hair where it has fallen out. It is the only hair restorer that will grow hair where it has fallen out.

Gray Hair Restored.

"WALNUT HAIR STAM"

Restores Gray, Thinned or Falling Hair. It is the only hair restorer that will grow hair where it has fallen out. It is the only hair restorer that will grow hair where it has fallen out. It is the only hair restorer that will grow hair where it has fallen out.

Gray Hair Restored.

"WALNUT HAIR STAM"

Restores Gray, Thinned or Falling Hair. It is the only hair restorer that will grow hair where it has fallen out. It is the only hair restorer that will grow hair where it has fallen out. It is the only hair restorer that will grow hair where it has

The Professor and the Lion.

By J. Sackville Martin.

"Bravo, Doctor, said my friend the land officer, in such a simple thing as you think it. One man is brave in one way, and another in a different one. It is enough, that in the tone of the story is nothing more than custom. You wouldn't go up on the fore-rail, and in half a gale to reef sail, would you? Not you? You'd be afraid. Well, you might think me a brave man because I would. But then I'd be afraid to cut a chap's leg off, and you wouldn't."

"That was what old Captain Hoskins, whom I used to sail with, could never understand. If a man was a bit nervous about the sea, he used to look down on him as all sorts of a coward. But there came a day when he learned better."

It happened when I was with him in a three-masted sailing-ship, the Arrow. We lay at Singapore, alongside of a general cargo for Liverpool. The principal object in that cargo was a lion that we were shipping for London. It lay in a strong cage of wood and iron, with a door in the front through which it could be fed. It was a fine big brute, and every time it stretched itself you could see the muscles slipping over its sides and the big, wicked-looking claws peeping out of the pads of its feet in a way that made you very thankful for the bars. There was a passenger or two, one of whom was a young girl who went by the name of Hilda Sandford. Directly the old man set eyes on her trim figure and her wealth of golden hair, he was struck all of a heap, so to speak, and I could see that he was promising himself a mighty pleasant voyage.

The other passenger was a strange, lean, wiry man, who wore gold eyeglasses, and kept peering about the ship in a most uncomfortable way. He gave him the name of Professor Hay, though we didn't find out what he possessed until later.

An hour or two before we started this Mr. Hay came up to the old man and began asking him a lot of questions.

"Captain," he said nervously, "I hope we shall have a quiet passage."

"I don't see why you shouldn't," said Hoskins genially.

Mr. Hay looked up at the sky.

"There seems to be a good deal of wind about," he said.

"Fretty folk," said Hoskins. "That's what's going to take us home. Not being a steamer, we can't do without it."

"You're sure it's quite safe?" asked Hay.

"Safe!" says the old man, getting on his high horse, "safe! I'm sailing the ship."

The Professor smiled apologetically.

"I will excuse me, Captain," he said. "I did not mean any offence. The fact is I am constitutionally nervous."

weather, I'll show you the sort of man I am. I should love a bit of danger for your sake."

About a week later, the girl was sitting on the poop-deck, reading a book. The "old man" was sunbathing up and down with a quarter-deck trot, casting glances at her and thinking how pretty she was, when suddenly he uttered a howl that would have frightened an elephant and sprung into the water at the ship's side. He was looking at the time, and I looked at him, wondering whether he had gone mad. Then I saw what he had seen, and I went up to the starboard suizoo shrouds as quickly as he had raised up the port ones. The girl raised her head and looked up at the Captain and he gaped down at her and tried to shout. But for some time he could only make faces.

"Look! look!" he yelled at last. "Come up the rigging!" The lion is loose!"

Springing to her feet and looking about her, the girl was playing with a roll of rope. The rigging was almost entirely exposed, and she was breathing herself. The creature was paying no sort of attention to the girl at the moment, but of course it must take it into its head to spring on her at any instant. As she stood, she was cornered between the side of the ship and the cabin door. There was nothing to be done but to climb up the rigging. She tried, but the first step was too high, and she could not manage it; when she realized that, I thought she was going to faint.

Hoskins was just going down to give her a hand, but at that moment the lion leaped up and saw him, and hissing it all gave a muffled roar. The "old man" stuck where he was, and sort of shivered all over like a jelly. For the girl, she mounted desperately, and gave herself up for lost. Just then—out of the cabin came another Hay.

He took one look around and saw the lion. Then he picked up a broom and began to sweep the lion out of the decks had left leaning against the deck-house, and pushed at the lion with his head, and the lion, between his eyes. He kept walking forward, pushing the beast gently before him right into the vessel and back into its cage, in spite of several nasty marks. He had it safely fastened in, he came astern, looking not the least bit excited or worried, and put the broom carefully back in its place. The girl was looking hard at him, and her eyes were shining, but he didn't seem to be aware of it. Captain Hoskins had come down the rigging and was looking at the lion, and he didn't seem to be aware of it. Captain Hoskins had come down the rigging and was looking at the lion, and he didn't seem to be aware of it.

"I'm not thinking of getting married," she said shyly. "But when I do, I'll bear your advice in mind, Captain."

"That's it," said Hoskins. "Think over it carefully. And as for getting married, I'd be glad if you'd think over that too."

She started, with a frightened look.

"Oh, that!" she said. "Please don't."

"Miss Sandford?" he said. "Hilda! haven't you a word for a poor old sea-man who worships the very ground you tread on? Think over it. None but the brave deserve the fair, you know."

"You mustn't speak like this," she exclaimed, rising as though she was distressed. "You are older than I am, and I don't know that you are a brave man."

"And you are not afraid of anything," Captain Hay said.

"Not I," said Hoskins. "You can have the biggest storm ever battered by the China Sea, and I'll thank you for it. It brings out all the good in a man. It must be nice to be so brave," she exclaimed.

"FISHED AT THE LION, LOOKING IT STRAIGHT BETWEEN THE EYES." The lion never been able to overcome. The "old man" looked at him with a sort of good-natured contempt. "You've no call to be alarmed," he said. "We'll take you to England safe enough."

The Professor smiled again and walked off into the waist, where he had fixed up the lion's cage. It seemed to have a sort of attraction for him, for he stood before it for at least a quarter of an hour. Hoskins looked at him, and then turned to Miss Sandford, who was sitting near.

"Nice sort of chap to have on a ship," he said. "A man like that ought to stick to dry land."

"Well, you know, I have a fellow-feeling for him, Captain," she answered. "I'm afraid of the sea myself."

"Ah," he said, "but you're a woman. You see a bit of fear is all right in a woman. It's natural to them. But with a man it's different. A man ought to be afraid of nothing."

"And you are not afraid of anything," Captain Hay said.

"Not I," said Hoskins. "You can have the biggest storm ever battered by the China Sea, and I'll thank you for it. It brings out all the good in a man. It must be nice to be so brave," she exclaimed.

LOVE AND ADVENTURE.

THE THEME OF THE STIRKING SERIAL STORY BY SIR CONAN DOYLE, CREATOR OF SHERLOCK HOLMES.

This Exceptional Story, Highly Illustrated, Will Start in the Next Issue of This Magazine Section the Series of Your Subscription, so As Not to Miss the First Chapters.

We have arranged for the publication in 15 issues, of the thrilling story of love and adventure, "The White Company," by Sir A. Conan Doyle, author of "Mycroft & Holmes" in "The Sign of the Four," and the stirring Sherlock Holmes Detective Stories.

"The White Company," to write which Mr. Doyle read 123 contemporary books, is a tale of the battles of England's Salient Era, a most doubtful men-at-arms and her wondrous long-bowmen, during the period when all France was harried by the famous Black Prince. In those times, when gunpowder was just coming to be used in a cruel form, the English long-bowman could send his gray goose shaft, with deadly effect, a distance of 450 yards, or practically a quarter of a mile. The bows were made of yew, tough and springy, and the arrows were of ash, long and feathered and straight.

"So we toast all together To the gray goose feather And the land where the gray goose flew."

The White Company is the sequel to Mr. Doyle's great story, "The Sign of the Four," which he received Twenty-five Thousand Dollars.

In presenting the revised "White Company," we are offering our many readers one of the most stirring and powerful stories written by any modern author.

A Russian does not become of age until he is twenty-six.

At the recent Greco-Turkish games, the Russian athletes performed poorly in the sprinting or running contests, notwithstanding their extensive Manchurian training.

The Washington Post says that the Russian athletes who performed poorly in the sprinting or running contests, notwithstanding their extensive Manchurian training.

SEASONABLE FADS.

Unique and Striking Designs in Hair Ornaments, Hat Pins and Necklaces.

This year has its share of fads and fads quite as much as any that are past, and these are needed with no small degree of art and precision. One might almost think that the days of the past had returned with a vengeance in the craze for beads, buckles and bracelets, were it not for the fact that each article which is doctored gains that distinction by reason of its harmony or contrast. Color plays a great part in the present season's drama and the fashionable woman is always seeking for effect in its use. Beads in the form of necklaces are worn in all colors and they are used to further accentuate some color tone in the costume. The necklace worn with the liner blouse is often chosen to match the hat and gloves, or to offer a becoming note of contrast to a monotonous ensemble. A girl of today does not own one necklace but a dozen. Some of them expensive but the majority costing from $5 each. Some very beautiful shades of green and amethyst are seen in these beads, while amber is returned to favor with a vengeance.

The prettiest necklaces recommended for the season are of shell, Mother of Pearl with coloring of wondrous beauty. They come in all of the pastel shades, white, pink, blue, green, pale yellow and old rose are beautifully combined. The shells are of the most delicate and beautiful. Necklaces are often long enough to wind several times about the neck. In the form of a chain, they are of considerable interest this year, appearing in all manner of fantastic shapes and in rare colorings. The same idea of chain is applied to the wrist with quite as much as in the choice of a necklace. These pins with heads of Mother of Pearl are considered especially smart with black hats as well as those of tan and brown, while almost every color is seen in the choice of a necklace. Some very dainty heads of Dresden with blue and white enamel, and some of the delicate colors for wear with the white and flower hats.

Coming out of the idea of artistic adornment are the flowers of soft satin ribbon which trim many dainty frocks and hats. The stems of the ribbon as well as its softness and exquisite shadings give to the blossoms a rare beauty which is seldom seen in those of silk or velvet. Rare little bunches of violets or wild flowers, which are worn as a decoration instead of the real flowers, and while they prove an excellent suggestion of the real flowers themselves, they have the added charm of not crushing and fading away as fresh. A lady of fashion recently sailing for Europe carried several beautiful little corsage bouquets of this kind.

There has been a greater demand for fancy combs and hair ornaments this year than for sometime past. Head dresses which have been popular during the past few years and collars were never more exquisitely arranged. It is small wonder that the demand for combs has been so great. Here the idea of suitability is still followed and the combs are made in harmony with the costume, the little bar or other shaped pin which holds the hair locks at the neck must match the comb. These are in all prices. One very striking and attractive comb seen recently was of a composition resembling metal. A large dragon by spread its wings across the top in beautifully shaded metal giving the effect of a dragon in flight. The price was $3.50. Another of tortoise shell mounted in solid gold with a large water pearl. In spite of the good imitations which can be had, the real shell is still in demand for a large fresh water pearl. In spite of the good imitations which can be had, the real shell is still in demand for a large fresh water pearl.

Margaret Anglin.

Margaret Anglin, who refused to proceed with the third act of William Vaughn Moody's play until he signed a document giving her the exclusive American, English and Australian rights to it, was born in the Canadian House of Parliament twenty-five years ago. That her birthplace was unusual resulted from the fact that her mother, a French Canadian, was the daughter of the Canadian House and her mother was there during a session.

Mrs. Anglin has been on the stage for years, her first important engagement being with James O'Neill, with whom she played Mercedes in "Monte Cristo." In the production of the famous "Cyrano de Bergerac" she had the part of Roxane, and later was star of the Empire Theatre Stock Company of New York. For two years she has been at the head of her own company, and has achieved marked success in "Zirz."

The Muck Rake writers are said to be at the bottom of the pond, but probably not, however, tooth and nail.

It is announced that the pump trust will be liquidated by the end of the month. The pump trust will be liquidated by the end of the month.

THIS MAGNIFICENT COCKTAIL DINNER SET FREE.

Forty-two pieces of American China (semi porcelain) given FREE for a small club of subscriptions. No dinner plates, 6 plates, 6 cups and saucers, 8 fruit, 4 butter, a sugar bowl with lid, a cream pitcher, a soup plate, a vegetable, 8 and an olive dish, all of the best ware decorated in five colors and gold. This set a "real" restaurant set, but just such as you would buy at first-class store. A weight paid to any hotel east of New York.

THE OFFER Send 12 new yearly subscriptions to THE HOUSEKEEPER at 60 cents each and receive the Cocktail Dinner set, freight paid, as a reward for your trouble.

Sample Copies and Agents' Supplies sent on application FREE. Hundreds of ladies have received our set are working for the second.

Our GREAT "GET ACQUAINTED" COUPON OFFER

The Housekeeper contains serial and short stories, a general interest and a household department. We will send the magazine and a sample copy of our new book "The Housekeeper" if you will cut and mail this coupon today. Do not delay.

THE HOUSEKEEPER CORPORATION, Dept. M, MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

FREE TRIAL OF THE FAMOUS "Fat People"

No Money Down. No C. O. D.

FREE GOLD WATCH

ALISON CO., Dept. 10, Buffalo, N. Y.

SENT ON APPROVAL

Our Straight and Easy Plan

ALISON CO., Dept. 10, Buffalo, N. Y.

PETTICOAT AND CORSET

ALISON CO., Dept. 10, Buffalo, N. Y.

FREE $50.00 GOLD WATCH

ALISON CO., Dept. 10, Buffalo, N. Y.

FREE $50.00 GOLD WATCH

ALISON CO., Dept. 10, Buffalo, N. Y.

FREE $50.00 GOLD WATCH

ALISON CO., Dept. 10, Buffalo, N. Y.

FREE $50.00 GOLD WATCH

ALISON CO., Dept. 10, Buffalo, N. Y.

FREE $50.00 GOLD WATCH

ALISON CO., Dept. 10, Buffalo, N. Y.

FREE $50.00 GOLD WATCH

ALISON CO., Dept. 10, Buffalo, N. Y.

FREE $50.00 GOLD WATCH

ALISON CO., Dept. 10, Buffalo, N. Y.

FREE $50.00 GOLD WATCH

ALISON CO., Dept. 10, Buffalo, N. Y.

FREE $50.00 GOLD WATCH

ALISON CO., Dept. 10, Buffalo, N. Y.

FREE $50.00 GOLD WATCH

ALISON CO., Dept. 10, Buffalo, N. Y.

ALISON CO., Dept. 10, Buffalo, N. Y.

The Breckenridge News.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 12, 1906

A FACT ABOUT THE "BLUES"

What is known as the "Blues" is seldom considered as actual existing conditions, but in the great majority of cases by a disordered LIVER.

THIS IS A FACT which may be demonstrated by trying a course of

Watt's Pills

They control and regulate the LIVER. They bring hope and buoyancy to the mind. They bring health and elasticity to the body.

TAKE NO SUBSTITUTE.

New hats—Mrs. J. M. Curdrey.

New line of hats just in—Mrs. J. M. Curdrey.

Mrs. Curdrey is at Harbinger picnic July 4.

Mr. Leonard Oelze has been sick for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Curdrey were in Louisville Monday.

Logan Esery, of Tobinport, went to Louisville last week.

Miss Anna Jacobs will return from Skillman Saturday.

Standard binding twice 99 cents pound—Julian Brown.

Mr. Douglas Stewart Miller has been sick for several days.

Every body is going to the big picnic at Tar Springs, July 4.

Mr. C. W. Shaw arrived Monday night from the South.

Joe. D. Babbage, Jr., will be at the "Home-Coming" in Louisville.

Get ready for the big barbecue and picnic at Tar Springs, July 4.

Mrs. H. L. Stader will attend Home-Coming Thursday and be the guest of Mrs. Lee Meyer.

Rev. J. H. Kaffery is working for the Evening Post to Louisville as a "space" writer.

Douglas Kaffery, Stewart Babbage and William White will be at the "Home-Coming."

Mr. Tom Dyer and family are here from Kansas the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper J. Dyer.

Jan. Kasey went to Louisville Monday to visit his son, Elmer, and attend "Home-Coming."

Miss Gertrude Schoffer returned to Canton Friday after a visit to relatives out in the country.

Mrs. Hugh Atkinson and little daughter, Chicago, arrived here yesterday to visit Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Longwell.

Mrs. Roscoe Severs will arrive from Virginia shortly to be the guest of her parents in Harbinger and Mrs. D. Adams.

Chas. P. Babbage, who has been ill for two weeks at his home in Owensboro, is able to be here. Mr. J. H. Rowland and Joe. D. Babbage were his guests Sunday.

Bring your chickens, hens and eggs and receive cash or trade price—Julian Brown.

Remember I will continue to close out my stock at the old stand until July 25—Julian Brown.

Monthly Bible class meeting at Methodist church this evening at 7:30.

Important Notice—R-4-11-44 is sold under a positive guarantee by A. R. Fisher cure chicken cholera, Rump and lumb-neck. Price 50 cents. No cure no pay.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Stewart Miller, Jr., were in Owensboro last week.

Do you use an atomizer in treating Nasal Catarrh? When you use Ely's Cream Balm, the mildest, quickest, surest remedy for this disease. In all curative properties it is identical with the solid Cream Balm, which is so famous and so successful in overcoming Catarrh. Hay Fever and Cold in the head. There is relief in the first dash of spray up in the nostrils and the relief is complete. All druggists 75c. Including spraying tube, or mailed by Ely Bros, 50 Warren St. N. Y.

Miss Mary Deffen is attending "Home-Coming" in Louisville this week.

Notice to chicken raisers—R-4-11-44 cures chicken cholera, Rump and lumb-neck. Price 50 cents. No cure no pay. Guaranteed and sold by A. R. Fisher, Druggist.

Mrs. C. W. Fletcher and Miss Lizzie Blake went to Owensboro last week to visit.

The laxative effect of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets is so agreeable and so natural that you do not realize it is the effect of a medicine. For sale by Short & Haynes, Cloverport.

Police Henry Deffen, Mooreman, Tom Moore, Roy Moore and Frank Nichols were here from Harbinger Sunday.

Charlie and Dick Adkinson are in Louisville this week seeing the sights.

Miss Mary and Maude Smith returned from school at Bethlehem college Monday accompanied by their father, S. T. Smith.

Disease takes no summer vacation. If you need flesh and strength use

Scott's Emulsion

summer in winter.

Send for free sample.

SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 609 Broadway, New York.

Wholesale and Retail Druggists.

Deadly Serpent Bites.

are as common in India as are stomach and liver disorders with us. For the latter however there is a more ready remedy. Electric Bitters, the great restorative medicine, of which S. A. Brown, of Bennettville, S. C., says: "They restored my wife to perfect health, after years of suffering with dyspepsia and chronically torpid liver." Electric Bitters cures indigestion, constipation, biliousness, low-back kidney trouble and bladder disorders. Sold on guarantee by Short & Haynes druggist. Price 50c.

Mrs. J. E. Mathews arrived from Philadelphia Sunday evening. Her brother, Mr. Joe (Gwen), of New Orleans, accompanied her home from Louisville.

Death from Lockjaw never follows an injury dressed with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with splendid results, but who are unknown because they have hesitated about giving a testimonial of their experience for publication. These people, however, are some of the few friends of this remedy. They have done much toward making it a household word by their personal recommendations to friends and neighbors. It is a good medicine to have in the house and is widely known for its cure of diarrhoea and all forms of bowel trouble. For sale by Short & Haynes, Cloverport.

CHAS. MOORMAN, Chief Engineer of Louisville & Atlantic R. Co., were here from Versailles Saturday and Sunday.

Unknown friends. There are many people who have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with splendid results, but who are unknown because they have hesitated about giving a testimonial of their experience for publication. These people, however, are some of the few friends of this remedy. They have done much toward making it a household word by their personal recommendations to friends and neighbors. It is a good medicine to have in the house and is widely known for its cure of diarrhoea and all forms of bowel trouble. For sale by Short & Haynes, Cloverport.

HAS STOOD THE TEST 25 YEARS. The old original GROVE'S Tasteless Chill Tonic is in demand in a tasteful form. No cure, no pay.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon McCreck and family spent Sunday with relatives at Holt.

An Alarming Situation frequently results from neglect of clogged bowels and torpid liver, until constipation becomes chronic. This condition is unknown to those who use Dr. King's New Life Pills, the best and gentlest regulators of Stomach and Bowels. Guaranteed by Short & Haynes druggists. Price 25c.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Quinlan Adams, Harbinger, are at Tar Spring for Mr. Adams' health.

Following the Flag.

When our soldiers went to Cuba and the Philippines have the most important consideration. Willis T. Morgan, retired Commissary Sergeant Major, of New Hampshire, and find it the best medicine in the world for coughs, colds, bronchitis, troubles and all lung diseases. Guaranteed at Short & Haynes druggists. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Sunny South Here Monday Night.

The following is what the Stenboville Daily Gazette has to say about Col. W. R. Markle's last "Sunny South" which is to be here next Monday night June 18. "Sunny South" is one of the best shows on the water, we think.

Stenboville was paid a return visit last evening by W. R. Markle's Floating Theatre, "The Sunny South," and as usual it was greeted by a crowd. We have been visited annually for several years by Mr. Markle and although he has each time brought a good show it is safe to say that this year he has by far the best collection of artists that he ever had. For two hours and a half the performers were greeted with shouts of laughter and loud applause.

The opening number on the program Mr. Bert Hagne's clever comedy "A Sure Cure for Jealousy," contains a plot that is well worked out by five characters. The acting of Messrs. Randolph, Valdere and Hagne and Herbert and Hoffman, brought forth continuous laughter, especially the comedy work of Bert Hagne, as the "Washwoman" and the "Colony" and James Valdere's impersonation of the "Colored Servant." This set the audience on a keen edge for the many good things that were to follow.

The electric swings and automobile songs and marches by the ten Sunny South girls were a real treat, and the girls are all pleasant to look upon. W. R. Markle deserves all the praise that was heard after the performance of the up-to-date business like handling of his amusement enterprise and he has the well wishes of his many Stenboville friends. His new floating theatre is also the best thing of its kind that ever appeared on these waters and is in fact a beautifully appointed, comfortable and commodious place home.

Misses A. Lonnie and Mildred Harbinger are at "Home-Coming in Louisville."

Nasal CATARRH

In all its stages.

Ely's Cream Balm

cleanses, soothes and heals the diseased membrane. It soothes and drives away a cold in the head quickly.

Cream Balm is placed into the nostrils, spreads over the membrane and is absorbed. Relief is immediate and a cure follows. It is not drying—does not produce sneezing. Large Size, 40 cents at Druggists or by Mail; Trial Size, 10 cents.

ELY BROTHERS, 46 Warren Street, New York.

Many People

SEE MARRIAGE.

Hardinsburg, Ky., June 12—The marriage of Miss Virginia Hensley and Mr. John D. Shaw, which took place at the Baptist church, Tuesday afternoon, June 5, was one of the prettiest weddings the town ever witnessed.

Both the contracting parties having many friends, the house was filled to its utmost capacity, ere the all important hour arrived and it was an expectant audience that awaited the bridal party. And when the well known strains of Mendelssohn's march played by Mrs. C. V. Robertson pealed forth, the atmosphere was pervaded by the "all the world loves a lover" spirit.

The marriage ceremony was impressively said by the Rev. Everett English, the pastor of the church. The bride was made of alice blue silk; the bridesmaids Miss Moody, of Zanesville; Miss Delamater, Gardiner and Hensley were white with alice blue girdles.

The ushers were Mr. H. H. Kemper, of Irvington; Messrs. John Stillman, Arthur Scott and Judge Henry De Haven Moorman. The flower girls were Virginia and Clara Hensley.

The bridal party left immediately, for an extended tour through the east, including Niagara Falls, New York, and Washington.

Lie.

The poet's exclamation: "O Life! I feel thee bounding in my veins." Is a joyous one. Persons that can rarely or never make it, in honesty, to themselves, are among the most unfortunate. They do not live, but exist; for to live implies more than to be. To live is to be well and strong, to rise feeling equal to the ordinary duties of the day, and to retire not overcome by them; to feel bounding in the veins. A medicine that has made thousands of people, men and women, well and strong, has accompanied a great work, bestowing the richest blessings, and the medicine is Ely's Cream Balm. The weak, run-down, or debilitated, from any cause, should not fail to take it. It builds up the whole system, changes existence into life, and makes life more abundant. We are glad to say these words in its favor to the reader of our columns.

CLARK'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Signature of Dr. H. H. Clark.

Passes Examination.

Miss Clara Lee Snyder, 14 years old, has successfully passed the examination for graduation from the common school branches sent out by the State Board of Education. She is said to be one of the youngest girls in the state to pass the test.

Miss Clara is the daughter of Mrs. J. H. Snyder, of Harbinger, and a sister of Mrs. J. T. Morgan of Louisville, and Miss Mary Snyder of Gardiner.

READ THIS.

Franklin, Tenn., April 8, 1905.

This is to certify that one bottle of the Texas Wonder, Hall's Great Discovery, cured me five years ago of severe kidney trouble. At times my wife had to help me out of bed; to-day I am sound and well.

Respectfully, J. H. CAMPBELL.

A TEXAS WONDER

One small bottle of the Texas Wonder, Hall's Great Discovery, cures all kidney and bladder troubles, removes gravel, cures diabetes, sexual emissions, weak and lame back, rheumatism and all irregularities of the kidneys and bladder in both men and women, regulates bladder trouble in children. If not sold by your druggist, will be sent by mail on receipt of $1.00. Small bottle two months treatment and seldom fails to perfect cure. Dr. R. W. Hall, Sole Manufacturer, P. O. Box 639 St. Louis, Mo., Send for testimonials. Sold by all druggists.

Mr. J. E. Keith is ill at his home on the Hill. He has been subject to severe sick spells for several years and one of these came upon him Sunday night. Mr. Keith is past 70 years of age.

DR. R. P. KEENE,
Representing
TAYLOR & KEENE, DENTISTS OF OWENSBORO.
Will be in Dr. Lightfoot's office one week out of each month, prepared to wait on all waiting High Class Dentistry.
Will be here July 16 to 21.
ELY BROTHERS, 46 Warren Street, New York.

Wants.
Advertisements inserted under this head at one cent a word per week.

FOR SALE. Four room cottage with cellar for sale cheap. Alvin Hannon, Cloverport, Ky.

FOR SALE. 100 acres of land lying on the through railroad and 100 acres cleared six in woodland. Good barn, 10 acres of land for building, 100 acres of wheat. Price $1,500 cash. For further particulars, write the Breckenridge News, Cloverport, Ky.

FOR SALE. First-class two-seated surrey, nearly new. For information call at News office.

WANTED. To trade fruit trees for lumber. Write or call on Jno. B. Habbinger, Cloverport, Ky.

FOR SALE. PRINTING Presses and Cutting machines and one lot of good laundry machines. New and second hand. Write for particulars. MARTIN GABLE, 36 3rd Street, Louisville, Ky.

HENDERSON ROUTE NOTES. Home-seekers Excursions to all points to which home-seekers' rates apply.

One way Second class settlers rates to the South and North East. On the first and third Tuesdays of each month.

One way Colonist rates to California and Northwest Feb. 15 to April 7 and Sept. 15 to Oct. 31, 1906.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL R. R.

Reduced Rate Excursions

TO

Cerulean, Dawson and

Grayson Springs, Ky.,

California, Colorado and the Northwest.

Daily Excursion Rates to Hot Springs, Ark.

Extremely low round trip rates to points in the South and West. ARKANSAS, TEXAS and CALIFORNIA on the first and third Tuesdays of each month.

Specials presently conducted, excursions everywhere from Louisville to California, Arizona and Texas.

Full Particulars had of Agents or by addressing F. W. HARBLOW, D. P. A., Louisville.

For Sale!

1 5-year-old horse, broke,

1 3-year-old colt.

1 2-year-old stud (as good as the best.)

A number of milch cows.

1 mare colt.

Easy Terms.

BEARD BROS.,

Hardinsburg, Ky.

V. G. BABBAGE,

Cloverport, Ky.

J. S. WORTHAM,

Leitchfield, Ky.

BABBAGE & WORTHAM,

Attorneys at Law.

Business in the Circuit Court at Harbinger especially solicited.

Mr. Wortham will be in attendance at the Circuit Court at Harbinger at each term in February, May and October.

Contest To Come Up

June 25.

Hardinsburg, Ky., June 12—The Louisville Courier came up Monday, before the County Judge and Justice of the peace, John O'Reilly and Frank Hupert. Murray & Murray were present for the contestants and Jno. P. Hawsell Jr. represented the contestants. The contest was a general and special demurrer to the statement of the contestants and they were given until June 25 to file their answers. The Board adjourned to reconvene Tuesday June 26 when the demurrers will be argued.

MEET ME AT NOLTE'S.

The pleasant weather is a good time to do your sewing. If there is still a few items needed for the hot weather.

We are showing a lot of choice things in Dimity, Lawns, Mohair, Serges, Victoria Fabrics, Laces, Embroidries Etc. In fact all the cool things needed to dress comfortable for your outfit.

For the gentlemen we have the Soft Collars.

J. C. Nolte & Bro.,
Cloverport, Ky.

WELL MADE

BREAD, rolls, cakes and pastry will prove no failures when

CADICK'S GOLD DUST FLOUR

is used. It is pure, wholesome, nutritious, reliable. It means good living, if you buy this superior brand of flour. All we ask is that you try it. Experience tells us what the result will be.

MAKERS, Grandview, Ind.

No Waiting Here

Just tell us how much lumber you need. We have all kinds of Framing material, and choice Poplar and Walnut is ready for you.

That's the thing, unable to get so quick before.

Let us have your order to-day.

Your House, Barn or Stable may need repairs.

REMEMBER US, Seaton & Weatherholt, Cloverport, Ky.

Bank of Cloverport, Cloverport, Ky.

SOUTHWEST

The Land of BIG CROPS and PROSPERITY.

Are you making as much off your farm as you ought? Do you have any money to pay a big farm, and so you are trying a living on a small farm, or perhaps you are getting a good share of what you raise, in rent. Wouldn't it be better to go where the price of good land is so little that you own a big farm—where every acre of the ground is working for you and all you raise is paying you good profits? There are thousands of acres of fertile land in the Southwest along the line of the Cotton Belt Route that can be bought for from $5 to $10 an acre. This land is increasing in value each year.

See the Southwest at Small Cost

A trip to the Southwest would convince you that your best interests lay in settling there. The trip can be made at very little expense. On the first and third Tuesdays of each month you can purchase a round trip ticket in any point in the Southwest on or via the Cotton Belt Route at very low rates. Round-trip will be allowed for you to examine any locality you are interested in.

Write at once for free copies of booklets describing this wonderful country and for full information about cost of tickets, etc.

L. G. BARRY, T. P. A., Cotton Belt Route, 82 Todd Building, Louisville, Ky.

Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic has stood the test 25 years. Average Annual Sales over One and a Half Million bottles. Does this record of merit appeal to you? No Cure, No Pay. 50c. Enclosed with every bottle is a Test Case package of Grove's Black Root Liver Pills.

A FARM PAPER FREE For Five Years!

Send us a dollar for the NEWS, for one year, and we will give you free, absolutely free, a five years' subscription to the FARM JOURNAL of Philadelphia, the most practical farm paper printed.
ACT NOW!

The paper will cost you nothing. It is free!

The Breckenridge News.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 15, 1906.

Thatched Roofs in England.

"The thatched roof, which makes the English cottage picturesque, is doomed," said an architect. "For some years it has been going gradually. Soon it will be altogether a thing of the past. Fire insurance is the cause of the thatched roof's disappearance. No company will insure a cottage or its contents if the roof is thatched. They who want insurance must substitute for the roof of thatch a tiled one. As long as the English cottage remains very poor so that his house and furniture are not worth insuring he keeps a thatched roof over his head. As soon as he begins to prosper and lays in household goods of value he takes out a fire policy and away then goes his thatched roof."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

His Style of Hitting.

"And, now, Mrs. Sullivan," said the counsel, "will you be kind enough to tell the jury whether your husband was in the habit of striking you with impunity?"

"With what, sir?" queried Mrs. Sullivan.

"With impunity," repeated the counsel.

"Well, he was, sir, now and then, but he struck me oftener with his fist, sir."

His Remark.

"I won't do any more work for that man Hopkins."

"Why?"

"Well, he passed some remark I did not like."

"Did he? What was it?"

"He said, 'Brown, you won't be wanted after this week.'"

Constant Advice.

"A woman should always depend on her husband for advice," said the devoted wife.

"Yes," answered the visitor, "but it does grow monotonous not to give any advice except to economize."—Washington Star.

Last Youth.

A man looks black with regret, but without bitterness, to his lost youth; a woman, however vehemently she may protest to the contrary, seldom if ever attains to this same calm serenity.—Gentleman's Magazine.

General Debility

Day in and day out there is that feeling of weakness that makes a burden of itself. Food does not strengthen. Sleep does not refresh.

It is hard to do, hard to bear, what should be easy,—vitality is on the ebb, and the whole system suffers.

For this condition take

Hood's Sarsaparilla
It vitalizes the blood and gives vigor and tone to all the organs and functions.

In usual liquid form or in chocolate tablets known as Sarsatabs. 100 doses $1.

Once a Nest of Pirates.

Lundy, in the Bristol channel, is an island where one may see an earthquake at any time. There is nothing stirring about these "earthquakes," however. They are simply certain volcanic crevasses in the west of the island, which the local people call by that name. Lundy in former centuries was a notorious nest of pirates. In King Henry III's time William de Marisco, a traitor to the king, built a castle there and set up as an early Captain Kidd. And so it went on through the centuries until in the middle of the eighteenth century Thomas Beaulieu, a Barnstable merchant, who was then justice of the island, was convicted of piracy and executed and expelled. He had a contract for carrying convicts to the American colonies and used quietly to land them on Lundy and use their labor there.

The Nine in the Calendar.

The figure 9, which came into the calendar on Jan. 1, 1893, will stay with us 111 years from that date, or until Dec. 31, 1999. No other figure has ever had such a long consecutive run, and the 9 itself has only once before been in a race which lasted over a century—that in which it continuously figured from Jan. 1, 880, until Dec. 31, 990, a period of 111 years. The figures 3 and 7 occasionally fall into old combinations, but neither of them has ever yet served for a longer period than 100 consecutive years in our calendar since the present mode of calculating time was established. It is also clear that from their relative positions among the numerals it is an impossibility for either of them to appear in date reckonings continuously for a longer period than a century.

Business Methods.

Great numbers of vast fortunes in this country have been and are being built up on the very ignorance of the masses in regard to business methods. The schemers bank on it that it is easy to evade people who do not know how to protect their property. They thrive on the ignorance of their fellows. They know that a shrewd advertisement, a cunningly worded circular, a hypnotic appeal, will bring the hard earnings of these unsuspecting people out of hiding places into their own coffers.—Success Magazine.

Slovenliness in Speech.

Do not drift into careless habits of speech. Slang, which is slovenliness in speech, is as contemptible as slovenliness in dress. Many people use slang because they are too lazy to think of proper forms for the expression of thought. The clothing of our minds certainly ought to be regarded before that of our bodies.

Quite a Stole.

"I had expected there would be a great splash at Miss Fairford's wedding, but it seems to have passed off quietly."

"Oh, yes. The young man submitted to the operation without a murmur."—Chicago Tribune.

BUSINESS DERELICTS.

The Army of Men Who Mind Money, but Lost It.

A prominent New York lawyer of wide experience says that in his opinion ninety-nine out of every hundred of those who make money or inherit it lose it sooner or later.

How many thousands of good honest men and women there are in this country who have worked very hard and made all sorts of sacrifices of comfort and luxury in order to lay up something for the future and yet have reached middle life or later without having anything to show for it. Many of them, finding themselves without a home or any probability of getting one, without property or a cent of money laid by for sickness, for the inevitable emergency or for their declining years.

For the sake of your home, for the protection of hard earnings, for your peace of mind, your self respect, your self confidence, whatever else you do do not neglect a good, solid business training and get it as early in life as possible. It will save you from many a fall, from a thousand embarrassments and perhaps from the humiliation of being compelled to face your wife and children and confess that you have been a failure. It may save you from the mortification of having to move from a good home to a poor one, of seeing your property slip out of your hands and of having to acknowledge your weakness and your lack of foresight and thoughtfulness or your being made the dupe of sharpers.

Many men who once had good stores of their own are working as clerks, doorwalkers or superintendents of departments in other people's stores just because they fished and lost everything in some venture. As they now have other depending on them, they do not dare to take the risks which they took in young manhood, and so they struggle along in mediocre positions, still mocked with ambitions which they have no chance to gratify.

Thousands of people who were in easy circumstances are living in poverty and wretchedness today because they failed to put an understanding or an agreement in writing or to do business in a business way. Families have been turned out of house and home penniless because they trusted a relative or a friend to "do what was right" by them without making a hard and fast, practical business arrangement with him.

It does not matter how honest people are. They forget, and it is so easy for misunderstandings to arise that it is never safe to have anything of importance to a mere oral statement. It is due to it to writing. It costs but little in time or money, and when all parties interested are agreed that it is the best time to formalize the agreement in exact terms. This will often save lawsuits, bitterness and alienations. How many friendships have been broken by not putting understandings in writing. Thousands of cases are in the courts today because agreements were not put in writing. A large part of lawyers' incomes is derived from the same source.

Business talent is as rare as a talent for mathematics. We find boys and girls turned out of school and college full of theories and of all sorts of knowledge or splutterings of knowledge, but without the ability to protect themselves from human thieves who are trying to get something for nothing. No girl or boy should be allowed to graduate, especially from any of the higher institutions, without being well grounded in practical business methods. Parents who send their children out in life without seeing that they are well versed in ordinary business principles do them an incalculable injustice.—Success.

Refined and Subtle Sneers.

"I can never understand," says G. K. Chesterton, "it is that in poems and romances the poor are made to write at the refined and subtle sneers of the rich. As far as I can see from the daily life of our streets, it is the poor who do the refined and subtle sneering and the rich who write all over the pavement." Any one who has studied the conditions of our great cities will see the truth of this. Every day we see paper boys running, gutter boys moving with an undignified swiftness and uncomprehending "humping themselves," if we may be permitted to use the expression, in pursuit of cabs. And what do the rich do? They affect not to notice and pass by with well bred calm. What happens, however, if the ordinary well groomed man about town moves at more than a walk? Hoots of derision from the lower orders instantly assail him. A poor man may go about bareheaded. What happens if a rich man does the same? The refined and subtle sneers of the poor make him wish that he had never been born. We are of the old aristocracy want is either police protection from these gibes or a handy book of repartee so that we shall never be taken without our answer.—London Globe.

Marriage Suppers.

Among the agricultural laborers in England seldom a father or mother of the bride and bridegroom go with them to church. The bridesmaid and groomsmen should be an engaged couple whose marriage is fixed. In the wedding party does not count even one of the guests will die within a year. The wedding party should not be in being when the clock is striking, and the bride should not enter first in her own house after the marriage. It is unlucky to address the bride after the ceremony by her maiden name. In Moore's "Life of Byron" we are told that on the morning of his ill starred marriage, when about to depart, Byron said to the bride, "Miss Milbanke, are you ready?" a mistake which the lady's confidential attendant pronounced to be a bad omen.

John A. Hiner, of Douglas, Oregon, is visiting his brother, E. T. Hiner, at Weidon.

A Lesson In Japanese Courtesy.

I remember many years ago a dinner at the palace of the great official daimyō where among the guests were many of the old leaders of rebellions, old upholders of the shogunate. The last shogun himself, Prince Tokugawa, proud, silent, grim, and opposite to me, and I wondered if any human emotion could show itself on that impassive face. At that moment the emperor raised his glass and bowed in kindly smiling fashion to his ancient opponent. The face changed, was suffused for one illuminating moment with a glow of responsive fire. It seemed as if the emperor was once more thanking the shogun for his splendid patriotic act when after years of struggle he voluntarily laid his power and his prerogatives at the emperor's feet "for the good of the country," and as if Prince Tokugawa, looking back—and looking forward—for Japan, said to himself once more, "It was well done."—Mary C. Fraser in World's Work.

Figures That Stagger.

It used to be that astronomy, with its stupendous ungodliness, incredible velocities and inconceivable distances, seemed to make the greatest demand on man's belief, says the London Telegraph. Today it is physics. We read, for instance, that Hertz's oscillations give rise to 500,000,000,000 oscillations per second. Where is the man who can conceive of anything happening in the five-hundred-millionth part of a second? But this is quite a long period compared to some of those now accepted as inevitable optics. According to Maxwell's great theory, a light wave is a series of alternating electric currents flowing in air or interplanetary space and changing their direction 1,000,000,000,000 times per second. And this is supposed to be true of every form of light coming from the sun, the electric lamp or a lucifer match. Who can think of anything happening in the thousand-million-millionth part of a second?

Londoner's Visitor.

Sir Edwin Landseer, the famous animal painter, had an old servant—his butler, valet and faithful slave—named William, who was particularly anxious in guarding the outer portion. No one could by any possibility gain direct access to Sir Edwin. The answer would invariably be, "Sir Edwin is not at home." The prince consort himself once received this answer when he called, amplified on that occasion by the assurance that "he had gone to a wedding." An entire fiction on William's part, as the prince found out, for on walking boldly in and round the garden he noticed Sir Edwin looking out of his studio window. This was the faithful attendant who one day, when a lion had died at the "zoo" and his corpse came up in a four wheeled cab to be painted from, started his master with the question, "Please, Sir Edwin, did you horrid a lion?"

Truman Adams is working in the L. & N. shops at Louisville.

SOMETHING NEW

and entirely different from the old style. Made in regular reading glasses and in near-sighted and far-sighted glasses combined. Cost no more than the old style and are superior in every way.

WE GUARANTEE

them, and will promptly refund money if they fail to give perfect satisfaction. If you have any eye trouble write us—mentioning this paper—and we will tell you how to get a pair of "TORICOID GLASSES" that will relieve your trouble. It's not incurable.

T. J. Howe & Co., Opticians,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

Your Wants Supplied.

"We are fully prepared to supply your wants for anything in our line with entire satisfaction. Repair work is one of our specialties.

"Jewelry, watches or anything that can be repaired, you can depend on us to do it right.

"We respectfully solicit your patronage.

T. C. LEWIS & SON,
HARDINSBURG, KY.

Breaking It Gently.

Mr. De Club—My dear, a great German physician says women require more sleep than men. Mrs. De Club—Does he? Mr. De Club—Yes, my dear—er—you'd better not wait up for me tonight.

The State Democratic committee met in Louisville yesterday.

LIST OF HOME-COMING FESTIVITIES.

Louisville, where "Home-coming week" for Kentuckians is to be given, June 13-17, is preparing to cover itself with glory in the programme of amusement and entertainment provided for its many thousands guests.

The event begins on Wednesday, June 13, with a big reception and welcoming at the new Armory, built at the cost of nearly half million dollars, and which is the second largest building of the kind in the country. Mr. Henry Watterson, editor of the "Courier-Journal," Hon. J. C. W. Beckham, Governor of Kentucky, and Hon. Paul C. Barth, mayor of Louisville, will deliver the addresses of welcome, and they will be responded to by the Hon. David K. Francis, of St. Louis. Immediately following there will be a very pretty ceremony, in which Miss Louise Lee Hardin, of Denver, Col., the young lady who suggested "Home-coming week for Kentuckians" will be decorated with a handsome medal.

At 8 o'clock there will be a handsome parade of eight divisions, devoted to automobiles, open carriages, traps, handbells, tallboys, torch in hands and floats, together with an exhibition of the lighting apparatus of anti-bellum days and of the present period. The floral parade will close with the crowning of the queen.

At night there will be a big Philharmonic concert in the armory. Thursday will be known as Stephen Collins Foster Day, opening with the unveiling in the new armory of a statue for Stephen Collins Foster, who wrote my "Old Kentucky Home," erected out of subscriptions from the school children of Kentucky and ultimately to be placed in the new capitol in course of construction at Frankfort. Addresses on this occasion will be given by the Hon. Sidney P. Rodden, of Little Rock, Ark., and the Hon. R. W. Miller of Richmond, Ky. Songs written by Foster will be sung by a chorus of one thousand school children.

The statue will be unveiled by Mrs. Marian Foster Weiss, of Allegheny, Pa., only daughter of Foster.

Friday will be called Daniel Boone day. It will witness another unveiling—that of Daniel Boone. This ceremony will be in Cherokee Park, where the statue has been permanently placed. Following the unveiling ceremony, there will be a reproduction of an Indian attack on Fort Boonesboro, one of the spectacular features of "Home-coming week." The day will close with old fashioned dances on a special arranged dance floor over the tennis courts of the park.

At night a pageant, somewhat along the line of those of the village of Prophet at St. Louis, and during Mardi Gras at New Orleans, will present to the visitors in a series of fourteen floats the epochs of Kentucky history. The pageant will end at the armory, where Daniel Boone will be escorted to the ball room floor and welcomed by a queen and court, typifying a reception of "Old Kentucky." This hall will be the largest function of the kind ever given in the South.

On greater Kentucky day—Saturday, June 16—the programme will be divided between Frankfort the capital of the State, and Louisville. At noon, at Frankfort the cornerstone will be laid. All living ex-governors of Kentucky will participate with Governor J. C. W. Beckham in these ceremonies. The other exercises will be held in Louisville.

There will be a reception at 3:30 o'clock in Central Park to all visitors given in honor of distinguished ex-Kentuckians present. This will be followed by ceremonies in the same park over the Lincoln Birth place Cabin which has been kindly loaned to the "Home-coming week" Association by its New York owners. Addresses will be made by the Hon. Adlai E. Stevenson, of Illinois, and Mr. Henry Watterson. The cabin will be exhibited throughout the week at Central park. It will be exhibited long the entire route from New York. In the evening there will be a rally of Kentucky societies of other States in the new armory.

The closing day will be known as "Till We Meet Again." All of the pulpits of Louisville's churches will be filled in the morning by visiting ministers, and in the afternoon there will be children's services in Central Park, Cherokee Park and Shawnee Park.

At night there will be vaudeville services in the armory and addresses by distinguished sons of Kentucky.

REPORT OF S. S. CONVENTION.

The Annual convention of the Breckridge county Sunday School Association was held at Garfield June 13.

Friday evening Mr. E. A. Fox gave a seriptic lecture, which was quite interesting.

Saturday—Forenoon Session was opened by singing "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name," followed with an earnest prayer by M. P. Compton. Rev. D. F. Shacklette led the devotional, reading the 102nd Psalm.

I. Richardson, gave a most hearty welcome.

Response by Rev. Thompson.

The Meeting and Prayers of this Convention, County President is "The Salvation of Souls." In Dr. Whitworth's address, "The Real Work for a Real Sunday School," he reversed his subject, stating that a real Sunday School consisted of a christian Superintendent and christian teachers, and their real work was teaching the Bible.

"How and why you should have a Home Department in every Sunday School" was clearly brought out by Mr. Fox. Miss Bettie Taylor read a helpful paper on "Character building." Mr. Fox impressed this thought, that we as teachers should teach as a privilege and pleasure, and not as a duty.

Four of our district secretaries were present with good reports, showing an increase in the work since last year.

Twenty-six schools were represented and reported, amount of paid in association work from our county is $93.15, $15.00 has been pledged from three Schools, Irvington Baptist and Presbyterian, and Webster Methodist Sunday Schools, making a total $108.15. Now if each School will pay their apportionment we will collect the $125 amount our county has been assessed.

Appointment of committees.

Doxology.

After song and prayer, Mr. Fox told us "How to improve the Sunday School."

1. Have a Sunday School Pastor. Let him be a leader.

2. A Good Superintendent.

3. Good Teachers.

4. Good sexton, one that will have the church clean and comfortable. All working together will improve the Sunday School.

Those that have heard Mrs. Piggett before know that she gave us an excellent talk on "The Teaching that Touches and Tells." Wish I had time and space to give the many good points she made; but am sure that all of us gained thoughts that will help to teach more effectively, to realize more since we heard the discussion on "Teachers' Training," that every Sunday School should have a teachers' meeting.

The short but spiritual little sermon by Rev. Hughes was enjoyed and appreciated by all.

Mr. Dowell encouraged us to work more in the Sunday School as the statistics showed that 50 or 60 per cent of the christian people today come out for the Sunday School. Does it pay? As Mr. Hafferty was absent Rev. Thompson, suggested many helpful things "How to Make the Sunday School Grow." Mr. Fox related an incident about what had been accomplished in one or two counties as the result of "Home to Home visitation." Which should put renewed zeal in us.

Report of committee on Nominations and Resolutions. We your committee on nominations recommended the following persons for the various offices of the Interdenominational S. S. Association for Breckridge county:

T. B. Henderson, Pres.

Miss Nan Lyddan, Sec.

J. L. Gray and John Burr, Vice Pres.

Mrs. W. J. Piggett, Supt. Teachers

Do you want a daily paper for $1.00?

The NEWS and the Louisville daily HERALD, both one year for $2.00. The HERALD is a live paper and gives the news of the world from pole to pole in a bright, interesting way.

THE NEWS.

Training. M. P. Compton, Supt. House to House visitation. Jesse Whitworth, Supt. Home Dept. Miss Norris Kurtz, Supt. Primary Dept.

S. C. Dowell, J. W. Harrington, T. B. Henderson, W. D. Smith, Committee.

Committee on Resolutions

Resolved, 1st, That, we the members of Breckridge county Sunday School Convention wish to express our thanks for the christian influence and the great work this interdenominational movement.

2nd, That we tender our thanks to Mr. E. A. Fox, our State Secretary, for his helpful presence and efficient work and we hope that the many good things from him may be carried to the respective schools of our county.

3rd, To the good people of Garfield, we wish to express our sincere thanks for the temporal and spiritual provisions for the day.

4th, That we wish to express to the choir our thanks for the inspiration and helpful influence of such thrilling music.

5th, That we thank the county papers for the helpful advertisement of our Sunday School work.

6th, That we extend our thanks to our faithful county officers, who have so willingly, so faithfully and so efficiently performed the duties of the offices.

7th, Be offered our thanks to our Heavenly Father for the day. It has been one of great benediction to us as individuals, and as a great Sunday School body.

Miss Bettie Taylor, Miss Nan Lyddan, Miss Cora Mathews.

Convention closed by singing "God Be With You" Till We Meet Again."

Philip Miggins and son, of McQuady, were here last week on business.

Corfu's History.

Corfu is one of those three islands which like the Isle of Man, has frequently been bought and sold. For 30,000 decades the Venetians once secured it, and, with a fleet of galleys and a strong garrison, held it for many years against all comers. Chief of the Ionian islands, Corfu's vicissitudes may be said to have ended when, on the accession of King George of Greece, England (which had held away from 1813 to 1863) handed over the "Seven Islands" state that monarch's keeping. To the head of the first naval power in the world the waters of Corfu have a unique interest, for it was here that the first recorded sea fight took place, B. C. 492, between the Corinthians and the Sclanders. Of course victory fell to the islanders then as now. They were a crafty people, and when the Persians were seen in full swing cautiously waited to see how the oriental cat would jump. They jumped with the victor. The people of the town of Corfu are practically bilingual, for Italian has almost as firm a hold as Greek, but they love the Greek church better than the Roman.

The Broken Covenant.

One old fashioned divine of my early youth preached every Sunday upon "The Broken Covenant." At length the long suffering penitents could stand it no longer, and a denunciation was organized to visit the man. The denunciation informed the minister that they were extremely weary of hearing continually of "the broken covenant" and that there was a general desire to have at least one new sermon. "You shall have it," said the worthy minister in conciliatory strain; "you shall have a perfectly new sermon next Sunday." Accordingly the church was fuller than usual, and a thrill of satisfaction ran round when the text was announced in these words: "And the cup was found in Benjamin's sack." "Let me tell you my friends," said the preacher, "this day is coming when all your sacks will be empty. And what, think you, will be found in them? Again I ask you, what will be found in them? The first thing found in them will be the broken covenant, on which I will now proceed to speak at great length." This was how divided to the ground, and the congregation fell back into the estate of inter misery in which they had listened to that dismal orator on many past days—London Standard.

George Younger, who worked at the Shop here and went to Louisville to enter the service of the L. & N., has recently accepted a position in Walker's flower shop at Louisville.

Miss Hertha Wilson returned to Owensboro Monday after a stay with relatives.

PRESS THE BUTTON

EAGLE FLASH
SELF FILLING FOUNTAIN PEN.

The simplest—fastest—safest—handiest—used only Perfect Filling Pen. No glass filler—no ink to spill—no clogging—no shaking.

Fill the bottom of the pen (in the picture) and the pen fills in a minute.

Write the instant it touches the paper.

Eagle's $1.50 Flash

No. 27 with 14 barrel solid gold pen point—fast—reliable—rubber and fully guaranteed.

Eagle's Flash No. 25 with 12 barrel solid gold pen point—fast—reliable—rubber and fully guaranteed.

Eagle's Flash No. 26 with 12 barrel solid gold pen point—fast—reliable—rubber and fully guaranteed.

Eagle's Flash No. 27 with 14 barrel solid gold pen point—fast—reliable—rubber and fully guaranteed.

Ask YOUR DEALER, if he doesn't sell, send for the "Eagle Flash" Fountain Pen and the result will be the same. Each pen absolutely guaranteed.

Eagle Pencil Co.
Manufacturers
377 Broadway, New York

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

Stylish, Comfortable Tailor made clothes.

All the latest patterns for suits and trousers in high-grade fabrics. Clothes made by modern methods. Fit guaranteed. Moderate prices. Export tailors employed.

J. H. HUNSCHE,
Casper, May & Co., Cincinnati, Ind.

H. DeH. MOORMAN,
Attorney at Law,
HARDINSBURG, KY.

Will practice his profession in all of the Courts of Breckridge and adjoining counties. Special attention given to collecting road cases, and criminal practice. Licenses to practice in United States District Court. Office over Bank of Hardinsburg.

LOUISVILLE & EVANSVILLE PACKET CO.
(INCORPORATED.)

Fast Mail and Passenger Lines between Louisville and Evansville.

Steamers:
Tarason, Tell City,

Leave Louisville Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday, 4 p. m.

Leave Evansville Monday 10 a. m. Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday 6 p. m.

Through freight rates and passenger tickets to Cincinnati. Freight shipments delivered quicker than by rail.

PASSENGER FARE REDUCED.

Cloverport to Louisville $1.75
Cloverport to Evansville 1.75
Cloverport to Owensboro .75

Splendid accommodations for stock. General Office, 154-156-158 4th St. Louisville, Ky.

G. V. WILLIAMS, G. F. and P. A.
GEO. H. WILSON, Supt

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour eructations, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol cures indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known food and reconstructive properties. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does not only cure indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy cures all stomach troubles by clearing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach.

"I was troubled with sour stomach for twenty years. Kodol cured me, and we are now able to eat and drink freely."

Kodol Digests What You Eat.
Bottles only, $1.00. Size holding 2 1/2 times the usual size, which sells for 50 cents.

Prepared by E. C. DAWITT & CO., CHICAGO, ILL.

Chintz Royalty,

Practical Surveyor,
also Notary Public.

I can survey your Lands, write your Deeds and take the acknowledgement at your home. This saves you trouble and cost.

Your Patronage Solicited.

Address me at Hardinsburg, - Ky.

Farm Journal, five years . . . 75
Breckridge News, one year . . . 1.00

BOTH FOR $1.00

By special arrangement with the publishers of the Farm Journal (Philadelphia) we are enabled to offer both papers for $1.00 to every new advance-paying subscriber and to every old subscriber who pays in advance. The Breckridge News one year and the Farm Journal five years, both papers for $1.00, the price of our alone.

The Farm Journal is 29 years old and enjoys great popularity, adapted to the circulation in every state, and is one of the most useful, interesting and trustworthy farm papers published.

This offer should be excepted without delay, as it only holds for a limited time.

PISO'S CURE FOR
CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS
Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists.

CONSUMPTION

SOMETHING DOING!

CONTENTS

Of Our MAGAZINE

SECTION

For NEXT WEEK.

Be Sure

To Get It.

SOMETHING DOING!

"THE WHITE COMPANY"

Beginning of the great romantic story by Conan Doyle—a Sequel to Sir Nigel—handsomely illustrated.

"NELLIE GRANT SARTORIS"

Sketch of the lovely White House bride of the days of General Grant.

"TEN ACRE FARM HOMES"

"LINGERE FASHIONS"

"ORDERED BY THE GOVERNMENT"

"TO DOUBLE COTTON CROP"

